Kennedy Desires Strong Ties With Newer Countries

Landis Agrees To Chart Reforms Of Federal Regulatory Agencies

By Douglas B. Cornell
Palm Beach, Fla., (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy said Thursday night he is seriously thinking of naming a roving ambassador abroad.

As he explained the idea after a conference with Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the ambassador-at-large would help strengthen American ties with some of the newly emerging nations, substituting for personal visits by chiefs of state.

Kennedy and Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said they had discussed a sweeping range of domestic and international affairs.

Kennedy and Fulbright also voiced agreement on a need for putting U.S. economic aid to friendly countries on a long-term basis. They said this would increase the effectiveness of the program.

Full Moon Setting
The two men appeared at a news conference on the patio of Kennedy's home, with a full moon sending its light filtering down through the palm fronds.

Kennedy put in most of the day with Fulbright. They also played a round of golf. And the president-elect announced a pair of appointments.

He persuaded James M. Landis to come back into federal service to chart broad reforms of regulatory agencies whose operations Landis has criticized severely.

Landis' job with the income tax administration will be limited "to the amount of time needed for the preparation of a program and the submission of final recommendations for presidential action and legislation."

Roosa Appointed
The other appointment, of Robert V. Roosa, was to the No. 3 position in the Treasury department. Now vice president of the New York Federal Reserve Bank in charge of research, Roosa will be undersecretary of the treasury for monetary affairs.

Kennedy and Fulbright met with newsmen just after they came in from the golf course and got into fresh clothes.

The president-elect said they talked of matters of mutual concern both in the area of foreign affairs and domestic matters that are of special concern in the light of the economic slump at home. Kennedy said they talked of ways of making America's foreign aid more effective, and putting them on a longer term basis.

Agreement Not Complete
On all these there appeared to be no disagreement. But the two men conceded they do not see eye to eye on pushing minimum wage legislation to passage early in the next Congress.

Kennedy favors prompt action, to raise the minimum from $1 to $1.25 an hour. Fulbright wants to put other things ahead. He contends an increase now would hurt American business and put it at a disadvantage in competing for overseas trade.

He said they discussed agricultural problems and the stimulation of exports to help solve them. Poultry, he said, was an example.

Kennedy told newsmen he expects to hold off naming any ambassadors until after his inauguration Jan. 20.

Reporters, turning to the possibility that an ambassador-at-large might be named, asked whether the choice might be President Eisenhower. Kennedy replied: "No, no, no."

Landis studied operations of federal regulatory agencies at Kennedy's request and submitted a report that said in effect many of them are falling down on the job, and are beset by pressure from outside and lack of concern from within the government.

Food For Peace Conference Hears Land Retirement Plan

By Glenn Kruscher
Farm Editor

A plan by a key Kennedy administration advisor to pay farmers for retiring 16% of their land and to increase the price support of corn was unveiled at the Food For Peace Conference Thursday.

The plan was devised by Dr. Willard W. Cochrane, University of Minnesota agricultural economist who has served as farm advisory both to Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota, newly-appointed secretary of agriculture, and President-elect John Kennedy.

Reporting the scheme to the Food For Peace Conference was Ralph H. Cole of Holdrege, national secretary of the Farm Policy Council, who termed it a program that would halt buildup of surpluses but not be prohibitive in cost to the government.

Higher Income
Additionally, Cochrane claims the program will raise net farm income. Specifically, the program would take the following course.

—The retirement to a non-productive soil-conserving use of 16% of total acres devoted to the production of feed grains, soybeans, and legume hay on each farm producing any combination of the above crops.

—The payment to producers of a total of $250 million (or about $7 per acre) for placing their retired acres in an acceptable soil conserving use.

—An added incentive to the farmer for idling acreage would be price support of corn figured at $1.20 per bushel (national average) with equivalent levels of support in the other commodities.

This would be an estimated increase of 20 cents per bushel in corn prices over 1960 loan figures.

Plan Approved
During his campaign, Kennedy had indicated approval for the National Wheat Growers plan which also dealt with Wheat farmers idling a portion of their acreage in return for higher prices.

Cochrane, who appeared in Nebraska at the recent Governor's Conference as the representative of President-elect Kennedy, said in the report read Thursday that farmers should be given a chance to vote their approval on any program suggested by the administration.

He made clear, however, administration thinking that if the farmers vetoed the help of the government in stemming surplus production that there would be little the administration could do to stem the downward slide in farm income.

"You will not get a farm program manufactured in Washington, unless you approve it yourself," Cochrane reminded agriculture leaders on his Nebraska trip.

In appraising his suggested program to stem the 6 year upward rise in surplus feed grains, Cochrane said, "The program suggested is one that will raise net farm income, be acceptable politically and be of moderate cost to the government."

Lincoln Construction Sets All-Time Record

By Virgil Falloon
Lincoln's booming 1960 construction pace will wind up the year in excess of $19,820,995 — shattering by over $1 million the second all-time high set in 1959.

The year also will creep within $652,000 of breaking the all-time record high of $20,472,203 set in 1955. The 1959 total was $18,785,151.

While the 1960 building record book will not be closed until Friday by City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees' office, preliminary figures also show that the December building total will top $2,535,485 as compared with $1,153,576 for December, 1959.

Residential construction for the year will top 1,046 units compared with 1,030 for 1959 and 709 for 1958.

December residential starts total 55 single-family units, two duplexes (4 units) and 5

Ex-Pentagon Man Steals Documents

... WANTED TO GIVE TO SECURITY COUNCIL

Columbia, S.C. (AP)—The FBI Thursday charged a 33-year-old former Pentagon employee with stealing 200 top secret documents from the Defense Department.

Arthur Rogers Roddey, a balding University of South Carolina science graduate, was held in $15,000 bail after his arrest at the home of his mother-in-law here. He waived removal to Virginia where the complaint was filed.

Roddey was charged specifically with making false statements and with taking the top secret documents from the weapons systems evaluations group, in the Institute of Defense Analysis, where he worked until last September.

The tall, slender Roddey talked freely to reporters at his arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Henry Kirkland, but did not make clear his motive for taking the documents.

Take To Council

He said only that he planned to "take them to the National Security Council." The FBI said the case was not one of espionage, and that Roddey's motive for taking the documents was part of the evidence which will be presented in court.

Roddey, whose home is at Falls Church, Va., near Washington, came here last Friday to spend Christmas with relatives.

"I was all right until I came over here," he quipped as he met newsmen at his hearing.

Roddey, who appeared composed, was asked if there was something in the documents that the Security Council should know. "I don't know what they knew, but I knew what I knew," he replied.

He said he was apprehended before he had an opportunity to deliver the documents to the council, which he called "the decision-making body of the Department of Defense."

Asked if he had any connections with the Communist Party, Roddey laughed and replied:

"Oh, no. Nothing like that."

After the hearing, Roddey told newsmen: "I think these charges are bigger, broader than stated here. I have no political affiliation. I don't even belong to any political party in this country. I felt what I was doing was right and I still feel that way."

Roddey's arrest was first announced in Washington by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Top Secret
The announcement said Roddey was accused of the theft of about 200 official documents many of which bore security classifications ranging from top secret to confidential.

Hoover said that Roddey had a "top secret" clearance and had access to highly classified documents during his employment at the Pentagon.

King Returns To Belgium

CUTS HONEYMOON SHORT AS STRIKES CONTINUE

Brussels, Belgium, (AP) — King Baudouin cut short his honeymoon in Spain and flew back to riot-ridden Brussels.

He went into immediate conference with Premier Gaston Eyskens whose Catholic-Conservative government is threatened by spreading violence from nationwide Socialist strikes against the proposed austerity program brought on by material losses in the Congo.

About 15,000 strikers rioted for hours, causing widespread damage in Brussels shortly before the 30-year-old monarch arrived.

Informants said Eyskens gave Baudouin a detailed report on the 10 days of violence dividing the nation and widening the breach between the 700,000-member Socialist-led General Workers Federation and the 800,000-member Social Christian (Catholic) Trade Unions.

With strikers running rampant 4 hours in Brussels, the capital's street car and bus drivers announced an extension of their strike for a 3rd day. The drivers are members of the federation.

More than 200 members of the Christian Trade Unions, whose leaders have denounced the strikes, drove the buses and streetcars that operated in the capital.

A train left Brussels for Paris but took 7 hours to make what ordinarily is a 2½-hour journey. It carried 20 passengers and state policemen who remained aboard until the train reached the French frontier.

The Soviet ship Colodarsky was unloaded by non-striking stevedores at the truck port of Antwerp. Other ships managed to dock despite strikers' threats to shut down port traffic.

Public Works Minister
Omer Van Audenhove said in a radio address that if the government withdrew its austerity program under Socialist pressure it would mean "the end of parliamentary democracy."

With Queen Fabiola at his side, the King hurried to the palace in the royal car through streets darkened by a power shortage, one result of the 10-day strike against the government's economy program.

Socialist leaders, who had demanded that the king return, saw their followers get out of hand and riot in the heart of the city. Demonstrators smashed windows and store fronts and overturned cars.

Crowds booed when Socialist speakers announced that the king was returning. One knot of demonstrators rained stones on a movie theater showing newsreels of the king's wedding.

Riot police and Belgian soldiers rushed back from Atlantic alliance stations in West Germany held back the crowds from government buildings and braced for more trouble Friday.

Demonstrators wending their way home voyaged they would be back.

Leo Collard, president of the Socialist party, told reporters the strikes will continue until Eyskens withdraws his austerity program. The Socialists say the proposed higher taxes and cuts in welfare services will fall heavily upon the working man.

Estes Coming To Morrison Inauguration

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee will attend inauguration ceremonies for Governor-elect Frank Morrison in Lincoln Jan. 5.

Morrison said Thursday Kefauver had informed him of plans to attend the event.

The governor-elect served as Kefauver's campaign manager in the senator's successful 1952 and 1956 Nebraska presidential primary bids.

Kefauver campaigned in behalf of Morrison during the 1960 campaign in Nebraska.

The governor-elect was occupied during the day with his Food For Peace Conference, budget sessions and work on his inaugural address.

Morrison expects to complete preparatory budgetary research Friday. He plans to deliver a budget message to the 1961 Legislature sometime during its first 10 days of sessions.

Burglars Hit 2 Businesses

Burglars—possibly the same ones who entered two lumber company offices 24 hours earlier—struck in north Lincoln late Thursday and early Friday.

The Continental Baking Co. at 2711 N. 27th was burglarized, police said, but nothing was reported missing. However, a clue was found to indicate a woman might be involved.

A new .22 caliber revolver was taken from the Power Engineering Co. Inc. at 6200 Platte by the burglars.

Police launched an intensive investigation to try to apprehend the culprits before they hit again.

Betz Gets 3 Years In Pen For Assaulting 2-Year-Old

Herbert Emery Betz of 4326 Baldwin was sentenced to 3 years in the State Penitentiary for the Dec. 15 assault of a 2-year-old Lincoln boy.

Betz, 50, had pleaded guilty before Lancaster District Judge John Polk to assaulting young Douglas Miner of 4326 Baldwin with intent to inflict great bodily injury.

Betz, who had been hired as a baby sitter for Douglas and his 4 brothers and sisters, admitted striking the boy because he was "fussing." The child suffered bruises and a possible brain concussion.

Mrs. Verne Miner, the boy's mother, told police she had hired Betz as a baby sitter and he had been living in her home and caring for her children while she worked.

Brooks' Death Voted Nebraska's Top 1960 News Story

By Basil C. Raffety
Associated Press

Nebraska's peppery little governor, Ralph Brooks, who broke the Republican monopoly on state-house control in 1958, figured strongly in at least half of the stories rated as Nebraska's biggest news stories of 1960.

His death Sept. 9, only a few hours after he had vowed from his hospital bed he would stay in the race for election to the U.S. Senate, and the subsequent return of statehouse control to the Republicans with the succession of Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney to the chief executive's post, was ranked the top story of 1960.

Almost every Associated Press member newsmen who participated in the 1960 selections ranked this story high on the list.

Obituary Second
The No. 2 story of 1960 concerned a Brooks appointee, State Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink. Obbink was fired by Gov. Burney after he failed to explain to Burney's satisfaction a midnight flight to Kansas City on which Robert Kennedy, brother of the President-elect, was a passenger.

Obbink appealed his case to the Nebraska Supreme Court, contending he had been appointed by Gov. Brooks for a definite term, and a show-cause hearing was needed to uphold the dismissal. Governor-elect Frank Morrison re-appointed Obbink for a new term starting in 1961.

Only a hair's breadth behind this story was the special legislative session called in August by the ailing Gov. Brooks. Concerned over Nebraska's failure to keep pace with the nation's population gains, Brooks asked the legislature to put a constitutional amendment proposal on the general election ballot which would permit cities and counties to issue revenue bonds to finance acquisition and development of industrial property for lease to private enterprise. Without the special session the proposal could not be enacted until 1962. The legislature approved.

Flooding Ranks High
No. 4 on the list was the unprecedented snow-melt flooding which enveloped all major streams draining eastern Nebraska simultaneously in the closing days of March. It was the most newsworthy because out of this emergency was born "Operation On Guard," a mobile disaster task force built around National Guard and Civil Defense personnel.

Khrush Puts Out New Feelers For Summit Talks

No Sign Given He Will Make Concessions

London (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has passed word to the West he seriously wants summit-level talks at the United Nations next year on halting the world arms race. Diplomatic authorities, reporting this Thursday night, said the Soviet leader also stressed Moscow's resolve to press for an East-West solution of the Berlin dispute in 1961.

These attitudes were said to have highlighted Khrushchev's 90-minute talk last Monday with Britain's newly arrived ambassador in Moscow, Sir Frank Roberts.

Khrushchev appeared restrained in the discussion, perhaps as an aftermath to his recent bout of influenza.

But, informants said, while his manner seemed subdued and even friendly, he gave absolutely no ground for supposing that the Soviet Union at this time is ready to make any concessions on the big diplomatic issues dividing East and West.

Some authorities in this capital have formed the impression one of Khrushchev's motives in urging early disarmament talks between heads of government at U.N. headquarters is to create a setting for informal exchanges with President-elect John F. Kennedy.

This sort of meeting might conceivably enable him to argue the case for a subsequent Big 4 summit parley which he has been saying he wants.

The British Foreign Office has refused officially to disclose details of Roberts' interview with Khrushchev.

A spokesman Thursday advised newsmen not to be misled by some accounts of the exchange published in the United States.

Formally the Western allies have set their faces against summit-level disarmament negotiations at the United Nations of the sort that produced last fall's unorthodox performances by the Soviet leader.

But privately, officials reported that the question will have to be looked at again if Khrushchev does announce his intention to visit New York next spring for example when the General Assembly is slated to meet.

Prime Minister Macmillan is usually anxious to attend that sort of diplomatic party. Other allied and some neutralist premiers anxious for the chance of meeting Kennedy might also decide to join the rush to New York in such a situation.

Bomb Sought On Plane From Lincoln

Milwaukee (UPI)—A United Air Lines DC-6B was grounded for a search at Milwaukee's General Mitchell Field Thursday night after an anonymous report of a bomb aboard was received.

The plane was Flight 630, which originated Thursday afternoon at Lincoln, Neb., and stopped at Omaha and Chicago before coming here. It was scheduled to leave here at 9:45 p.m. for Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio.

An airline spokesman could give no estimate of the number of passengers aboard. He said he presumed the report was received in Milwaukee but had no definite information.

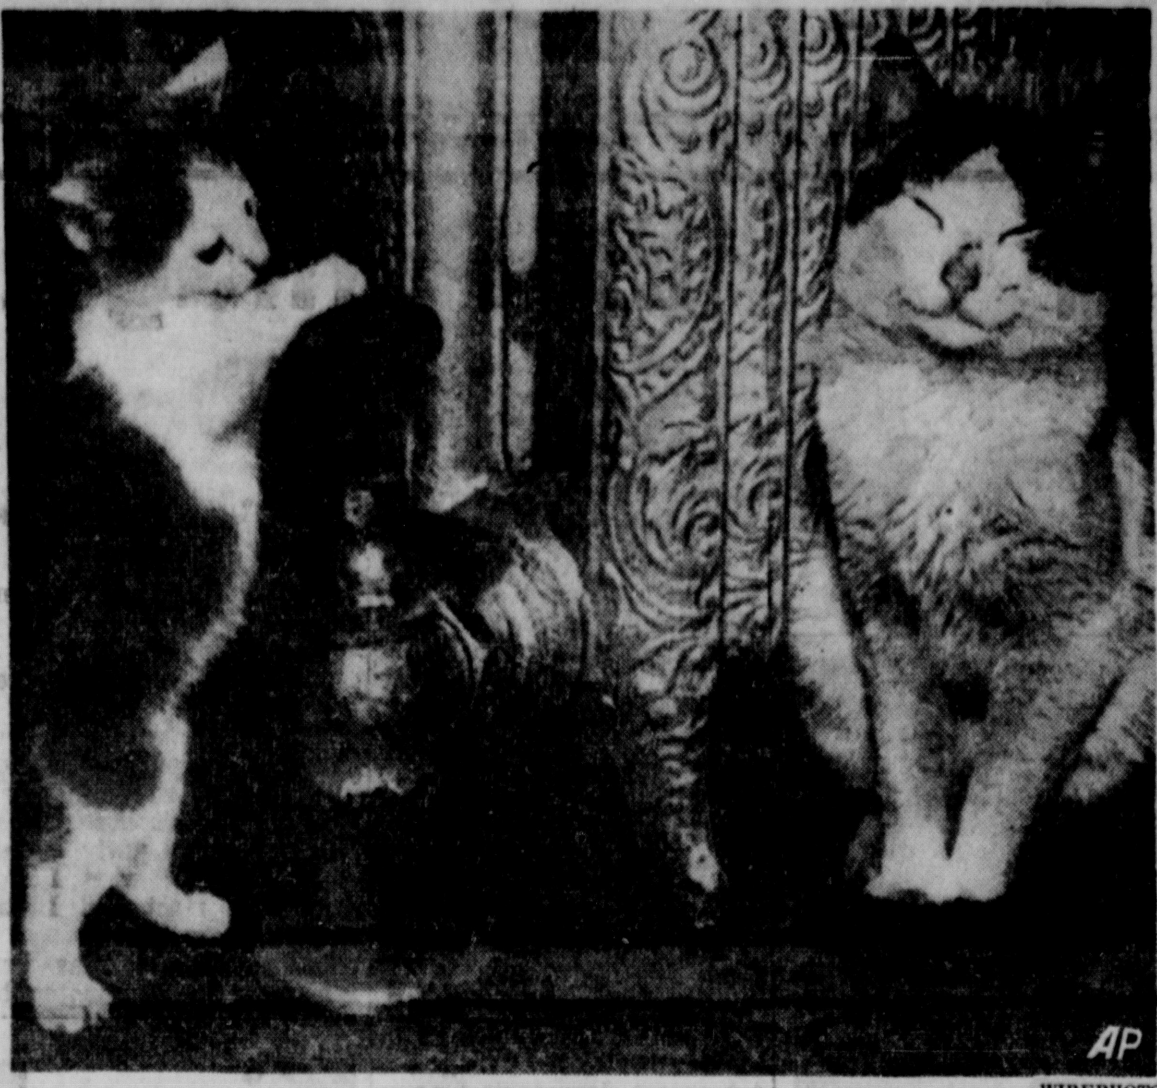

The Federal Bureau of Investigation and the General Mitchell Field fire department could provide no details.

Trade Accord Renewed

... E-W. German New Year Crisis Over Berlin Averted

Berlin (AP)—West Germany and Communist East Germany averted a new year crisis over Berlin Thursday with agreement to renew their trade pact.

Despite the agreement there was no indication the communists had given up their claim to control movement to the isolated city.

The two German governments, which do not officially recognize each other, reached agreement after 4 weeks of hard bargaining.

Half a Billion-a-Year

The accord provided simply that a trade agreement—worth about half a billion dollars a year—will go into effect Jan. 1 as originally planned.

"After sufficient possibilities were found in the course of negotiation for the continuation of contractually regulated economic relations, the heads of the delegations agree to put into effect on Jan. 1, 1961, the Berlin agreement of Sept. 20, 1951, with all supplementary agreements and annexes including the agreements of Aug. 16, 1960," the announcement declared.

The West German government cancelled the current agreement on Sept. 30 in reprisal for East German restrictions on free movement of West Germans into Berlin. The agreement regulates road and rail traffic between West Germany and West Berlin which is situated 110 miles inside communist-ruled territory.

If there had been no accord on New Year's Day, the communists might have made trouble over supplies for the population of West Berlin and for the troops of the United States, Britain and France garrisoned there.

The agreement was signed—then toasted in champagne—by Kurt Leopold, West Germany's chief negotiator, and Heinz Behrendt, official of the East German trade ministry.

Uncle Sam's Tax Take Last Year $91 Billion

Chicago (UPI)—The federal government collected a record $91,775,000,000 in taxes during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1960, Commerce Clearing House reported Thursday.

The huge collection amounted to an average of $508.37 per man, woman and child, the national tax and business law authority said. The per capita average rose $57.80 from the figure a year ago.

Total revenues showed an unprecedented peacetime increase of $12 billion from 1959, exceeded in only two other years, 1944 and 1951, when tax boosts helped swell the collection. There was no tax increase in 1960.

The annual federal tax review said the 1960 tax collection more than doubled the take of 10 years ago and was nearly 17 times larger than the collection of 1920.

Peru, Other SA Countries May Sever Ties With Cuba

Lima, Peru (AP)—Official quarters speculated that Peru and possibly other South American countries are preparing to sever diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Both President Manuel Prado and Prime Minister Pedro Beltran are said to favor a diplomatic break with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Said one diplomatic source: "If Peru and some of the other countries break with Cuba it would deal an almost devastating blow to Castro's revolutionary campaign throughout Latin America."

Such speculation has been building for several days. It was heightened when Beltran published in La Prensa a photostatic copy of a letter the Peruvian Communist Party purportedly sent to Cuban Ambassador Luis Alonso.

Thanks For Cash The letter was dated July 19 and signed by Raul Acosta, secretary-general of the Peruvian Communist Party. It acknowledged receipt of the Embassy's "generous contribution sent during the present month to our institute (Communist Party)."

The letter thanked Cuba for its student exchange program, saying "there is now a large cadre of bright and dedicated youths whose enthusiastic work is devoted relentlessly to the fight" ... it asked Cuba to expand this program.

The letter was one of several documents scooped up in a bold daylight raid on the Cuban Embassy here. The Embassy assault reportedly

Burney To Give Budget Message On Second Day

Governor Dwight Burney Thursday said he will present his budget message to the Legislature Jan. 4.

The legislative body convenes the day before. Burney said his budget will hold recommended expenditures for the 1961-63 biennium to "close to" 19% more than the current biennium's budget.

The governor said he will recommend that the state's storm emergency fund be increased by the Legislature to $100,000.

The fund is presently $50,000.

"The governor should have a little more money at his disposal in case of a storm emergency," Burney said.

Khrushchev Calls For Irrigation

Moscow (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has removed Vladimir V. Matskevich as agriculture minister and apparently has assigned him to the task of rescuing the Soviet leader's cherished program for opening virgin lands to large-scale farming.

The disclosure came as Khrushchev, evidently annoyed by persistent shortcomings in Soviet agriculture, turned his attention to irrigation as one means of overcoming virgin lands crop problems.

Matskevich will go to the northern area of Kazakhstan, the republic which is the scene of Khrushchev's most ambitious virgin lands program, and there he will direct operations in the richest sector of virgin lands area.

The prestige of Khrushchev's government, in respect to its direction of the nation's agriculture, may hang in the balance.

Therefore, while Matskevich has been on the receiving end of some criticism in the Communist Party press for his job as minister of agriculture, the new assignment may not necessarily be a token of the minister's disgrace. Kazakhstan frequently has been the limbo of Soviet political leaders during the Khrushchev era, however. It was there he assigned several of those dropped from high office in the 1957 housecleaning of "anti-party" elements.

Matskevich, long a Khrushchev favorite, is known in the United States. In the spring of 1955 he visited the United States and inspected American farming methods in the middle west, including Lincoln and Nebraska, with particular attention to corn, which has interested Khrushchev enormously as a source of abundant animal fodder.

Manufacturing Picture Dark In November

Washington (AP)—The manufacturing picture darkened further in November with new declines in sales, new orders, backlogs and inventories.

Reporting this Thursday, the Commerce Department gave these figures, all adjusted to eliminate the effect of normal seasonal fluctuations:

1. Sales down $360 million from October to $29.6 billion. The drop centered in durable goods.

2. Inventories down $34 million to $54.2 billion. The liquidation also centered in durable goods and involved raw materials.

3. New orders declined by $220 million to $23.7 billion. The heaviest cuts were in electrical machinery and transportation equipment.

The report also said that backlogs of unfilled orders, not adjusted for seasonal factors, dropped $920 million to $45.5 billion.

Sales of new autos by manufacturers dropped considerably from the rather high October rate, the department said, and electrical machinery shipments also declined. Billings by aircraft producers rose following a substantial decline in the previous month.

Probers Eye Alleged Bribing On Docks

Washington (AP)—The Senate Investigations Subcommittee said it is exploring the alleged bribing of some civilian employees of the Military Sea Transportation Service in New York.

The investigation centers upon operations of the agency's Atlantic coast headquarters on the Brooklyn waterfront. MSTS is supervised by the Navy, but its eastern headquarters is located at a waterfront Army base.

—SPACE BOSS QUIT—

Glennan Sees Rosy Future

... Praise From Ike

Washington (UPI)—Dr. T. Keith Glennan, who nursed America's civilian space program from the blueprint stage to the door of manned orbital flight, resigned Thursday as head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He did so with a prediction that the next decade will see an astronaut in orbit, instrument landings on the moon, reconnaissance of Mars and Venus, flight test of a nuclear-thermal rocket, and finally, after 1970, a manned landing on the moon.

The 55-year-old scientist-administrator, the nation's top civilian space boss for the last two and a half years, will return to his former post as president of the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, Ohio.

President Pleased

President Eisenhower, accepting the resignation effective inauguration day, Jan. 20, said the NASA under Glennan's leadership "has compiled a record of achievement of which every American can be justly proud."

In a summary of the agency's activities, Glennan said: "... The agency has completed its formative period and is now engaged in carrying out a vigorous and broad program with 3 principal objectives: The early application of earth satellites to practical uses for human benefit; the scientific study of the space environment and celestial bodies to gain new scientific knowledge; and the determination of the capabilities of man to contribute to space exploration and to begin the exploration of space by man."

Marine Hero Is Jailed; Accused Bank Robber

El Centro, Calif. (AP)—James Warren Patterson, balding World War II Marine Corps hero and once a respected high school teacher sat in a jail cell Thursday—accused of robbing a bank.

His former colleagues at Lowell High School in San Francisco—where he was once voted the most popular instructor—expressed shock at his arrest.

"He was one of the most respected people you'd ever know," said Harry Krytzer, assistant principal at Lowell High.

His father, H. D. Patterson of Palo Alto, said James Patterson once was the journalism instructor of Pierre Salinger, President-elect Kennedy's press secretary, at Lowell.

Decorated For Gallantry

He said his son had been decorated for gallantry in the Pacific, had entered the Marine Corps as a private and came out a captain after 4 years and was now a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve.

"Why the kid should pull a thing like this, I can't figure out," the father said. "He was wounded in the war, in the back of the neck, with shrapnel, and something just might have snapped ..."

FBI Agent William Curran said Patterson, 53, admitted robbing the Yuma, Ariz., branch of the First National Bank of Arizona of $5,000. But, Curran said, Patterson refused to say what prompted him to hold up the bank with a pistol and threaten Manager Mel Stahl with death.

Quickly Nabbed

Patterson surrendered without a struggle less than two hours after the robbery—as Curran and a deputy sheriff accosted him while he tried to change a license plate on a downtown street in El Centro.

He was arraigned Thursday before U.S. Commissioner Dorsey Whitelaw and held in Imperial County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bail on a charge of armed robbery. The FBI said he probably will be transferred to Phoenix, Ariz., for trial there.

His father, who said his son never married, told newsmen his son quit his school job in 1958 and entered the apartment rental business in Mexico City—"and was doing pretty well there."

What happened to him? "That's going to be one of my first questions," Agent Curran said.

When arrested, Patterson's only comment was: "Well, I guess my financial problems are over now."

Farmer Co-Op Members Get Over $11-Million

An estimated $11,767,900 was returned to customers of the 480 farmer cooperatives in Nebraska during the past year, Gordon Busboom, executive secretary of the Nebraska Cooperative Council, said Thursday.

Busboom said the money included $6,110,000 in the form of cash refunds, and $5,657,900 which customers reinvested in co-op stocks.

Busboom said the estimate was based on a study of 55% of the cooperatives in the state.

He listed these totals of refunds to co-op customers in selected counties: Frontier $135,272; Hitchcock $69,277; Dawson $178,051; Phelps $462,333; Clay $329,066; Hamilton $383,219; Seward $442,590; Madison $316,779; Seward $280,471; Butler $347,352; Valley $75,501; Kimball $116,420; Burt $128,860.

Bowl-Bound Train Falls Off Tracks

Puyallup, Wash. (AP)—Nine cars of a 17-car passenger train loaded with travelers headed for the Rose Bowl football game in Pasadena, Calif., spilled off the tracks here Thursday.

No one was killed but 12 persons were injured. There were 500 aboard the train bound from Seattle to Portland.

Admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital in this town of about 12,000 south of Seattle were Jennie Freedman, 68, and Stewart Freedman, 16, both of Los Angeles. One person was reported to have suffered a broken leg, some had back injuries and a cook was scalded with coffee.

It was the second accident of the day for Rose Bowl-bound travelers. Minnesota plays Washington in the year-end football extravaganza. A trainload of Minnesota visitors was delayed a half hour when a pick-up truck slammed into the side of their 13-car special in Cucamonga, Calif. No one was hurt. The truck was demolished.

York Bank Gives NU $1,500 For Vegetable Work

The First National Bank of York has given $1,500 to the University of Nebraska for vegetable growing research, the school announced Thursday.

The presentation was made by the bank's president, Ralph Misko, whom Governor-Elect Frank B. Morrison has chosen to be the new state banking director effective in January.

Dr. J. O. Young, chairman of the Department of Horticulture of the College of Agriculture, said the money will be used to establish several vegetable test plots in the York area this year.

The college and the State Department of Agriculture have had a growing interest in vegetable cultivation recently as a way of reducing the farmer's dependence on government-subsidized crops.

Misko is formerly from Eaton, Colo., a well-known vegetable growing center.

3 Murderers Still Unknown

... 1959 KILLINGS UNSOLVED

By Jim Woodson

Intensive investigation continues on 3 brutal murders committed in Nebraska.

The murders, committed in 1959, remain on open file.

The first murder came on Jan. 12, 1959. Phelps and Harlan Co. authorities, notified of the disappearance of a gas station attendant in Holdrege, found the badly beaten body of Carl (Shorty) Prewitt, 45, Holdrege, in a ditch near the city.

Prewitt, an ex-carnival worker, and gas station attendant for the past 4 years was married and the father of 2 children and 2 stepchildren.

Reason Told

An autopsy indicated that Prewitt had died of a slashed throat.

There were no signs of struggle and authorities found no motive other than $54 missing from the cash register.

When Prewitt's body was found, he was wearing only socks. His clothing still has not been recovered. An identification card and a receipt for dental work were found later but nothing has turned up since.

County attorney Robert McKelvie said recently several leads have been checked but nothing promising has turned up.

The second unsolved murder occurred in Grand Island.

Fred Joseph Burr, 66, was found dead at his home Aug. 23, from a brain hemorrhage.

Burr's son Leonard, 15, found his father on the floor.

Person Unknown

A coroner's jury ruled the man met his death at the hands of a person or persons unknown. A pathologist said the hemorrhage could have been induced by a blow over the left eye or one of a spontaneous nature.

Grand Island police continue investigation.

Appointees Pay Own Expenses

Washington (UPI)—Nearly all newly-appointed officials of the incoming administration are paying their own travel expenses as they fly to Washington and Florida for conferences with the President-elect, a Kennedy aide said Thursday.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary to John F. Kennedy, reported that "by and large, appointees traveling any distance to see Kennedy have paid their way."

In a few cases, he said, expenses have been paid out of the Kennedy staff fund, which is financed by the Democratic National Committee.

Newly named cabinet members and lower echelon appointees have piled up considerable air mileage flying to Palm Beach to confer with Kennedy and to the Capital to talk with outgoing officials of the Eisenhower administration.

Such Kennedy appointees as Douglas Dillon, the treasury secretary-designate, and Chester Bowles, named under secretary of state, are men of wealth. Also, they spend much time in Washington anyway.

But such other members of the Kennedy cabinet as Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina and Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota live some distance from the Capital. Hodges will be commerce secretary and Freeman agriculture secretary.

They and other appointees have visited the men they will succeed to begin learning their new jobs. Some of the members of the new administration also have journeyed to Palm Beach to see Kennedy.

One reason Kennedy is moving his pre-inauguration headquarters to New York City next week may be to reduce the travel burden on men who must see him.

Even though a man has been officially designated by Kennedy to hold high government office, he is not eligible for expense money or any other pay from the government.

GUILTY 'TEENAGE BRIGANDS' NOT 'JUVENILE DELINQUENTS'—HOOVER

Washington (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover urged Thursday that the term "juvenile delinquents" be dropped for "teenage brigands" who are guilty of some of the most vicious sort of crimes.

The veteran crime hunter blamed "muddle-headed sentimentalists" for using the term even when youths commit gangster-like acts. To most people, he said, it means youthful prankishness but the acts themselves "are nothing less than youthful criminality."

Hoover's article in the January issue of the FBI's law enforcement bulletin was written before the Dec. 23 "Christmas tree murder" in New York of 14-year-old Bobby Giuttari.

Edward Vogt, only 17, has confessed stabbing the boy when he refused to give him 50 cents Bobby had earned delivering Christmas trees to apartments in his neighborhood.

'Most Vicious Crime'

Vogt was held without bail on a homicide charge. In setting Jan. 6 for a hearing, Magistrate Irving L. Schreckling called the crime "the most vicious ever committed in this city."

In his article, Hoover cited the case of 5 "youthful gangsters" who attacked two families in a midwestern city park like "a snarling wolfpack."

Four of the youths were sentenced to 65 years in prison and the fifth to 50 years.

What Money Can Buy

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The fellow who said of money, "You can't take it with you," should have added that you also are often unable to live with it. It was a pathetic statement issued in this connection by Sen. Mike Mansfield, Montana Democrat, on the issue of foreign aid to Laos. The U.S. has pumped some $300 million into this strategic southeast Asian country but, as Senator Mansfield said, all we have to show for it is "chaos, discontent and armies on the loose."

This former French protectorate is in the midst of a revolution which will take a senseless and heavy toll of its people. Neutral, communistic and democratic forces are at odds in Laos with the outcome at this time a matter of anybody's guess. The unfortunate thing is that U.S. contributions to Laos, mostly for defense purposes, are a part of the reason for the present state of turmoil. But on the other hand, had these expenditures not been made, it is possible that the little country would have been communist-dominated some years ago. This is the thing that is so pathetic about many of the conditions which face the world today.

We spoke here yesterday of the remarks of Dr. Charles E. Osgood of the University of Illinois before the American Association for the Advancement of Science. That meeting has been continued with delegates hearing, among others, from Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, Arlington, Va., physicist. He presented frightening statistics on the awesome nuclear power of the United States.

Discussing a possible ban on nuclear bomb testing, he noted that pressure is mounting in U.S. military, political and atomic energy circles that may make agreement on such a ban unlikely unless it is formulated soon. Should our policy of seeking and wanting such a ban ever be abandoned, we would enter an era of almost certain open conflict with the East.

This was evidenced by the statement of Dr. Kenneth Boulding of the University of Michigan who stated that "it is no longer possible to purchase national security with defense expenditures, and almost every increase in our world expenditure on armaments increases the insecurity of all." One might ask if such statements as these are anything other than simple declarations which may or may not be true. Most certainly, it is not at all impossible for men such as these to be wrong in their reasoning and their judgment. Yet, there is one simple fact which lends significant support to their contentions. This is the fact that security in armaments is not a natural product of man's better instincts. What has been the history of every civilization through the ages that lived by the sword—that based its authority on its ability to crush its opponents by sheer brute force? If the world continues to live on a powder keg and to make the keg bigger and more powerful every day, then it should be prepared to suffer the consequences.

It is man's mind, not his might, which makes him great. If the course of the world's drift at this time were correct, there would be little need for many of the areas of knowledge which we now pursue and, indeed, the communist system might well be the better political and social choice to make. None of the past wars of history has solved anything.

Defense expenditures in South America have made no constructive contribution to society there. Innocent people in Laos will die by the hundreds in the next few weeks as a result of the power struggle going on there. Algeria and the Congo offer their people violent death at almost every turn. All of these developments are the product of armaments.

Yet, the United States has been at sea in an effort to map out any alternative course to pursue. To lay down one's arms in the midst of such a threatening state of affairs would be sheer folly. Russia cannot be unaware of what is happening and yet her actions contribute to the fomentation of power moves throughout the world. The only hope seems to lie in the direction of Russia's convictions and our own ingenuity. For a nation which has slaughtered millions of helpless people, Russia may be difficult to envision with any feeling of remorse for wanton death and destruction. Yet, Russians are human and their social order is constantly being cultivated.

For our part, it is essential that we dedicate ourselves to a pursuit of men's minds. What we must seek to develop in all nations is a greater sense of individual importance and responsibility. We must foster programs that give the individual some purpose in life and some hope for the future. We must concentrate on man's dignity rather than his physical strength.

Looking To Russia

Not A Give-Away

Those who are inclined to be critical of the University of Nebraska for its research activities should have attended Governor Frank Morrison's Food For Peace Conference here in Lincoln. The conference was addressed by Dr. Everett E. Peterson, extension economist with the College of Agriculture. We don't know what Dr. Peterson's class load is but his knowledge of his field is outstanding and the contribution he made to the Lincoln conference was a great one.

His broad understanding of agriculture on the international scene and his ready application of this in all fields of economics, social orders and politics is not something he picked up in the classroom. It is a mental capacity achieved through years of study and, if you please, research into his field of interest. If what Dr. Peterson can tell you about the international aspects of all of agriculture isn't worth the chips, then one whole of a lot of salaries are being wasted these days in many places, including those of state legislators and Supreme Court justices.

And just as research is no give-away on an individual basis, food for peace cannot be an endless welfare program. This Dr. Peterson made clear by his application of political and economic facts to any food for peace program. He is for such a program, wholeheartedly, and most certainly equates our agricultural abundance and the starvation of millions of people throughout the underdeveloped nations of the world.

But beyond this lies the embryonic economies of these nations which cannot be built on handouts, the practical impossibility of forever feeding foreign lands, food as a further incentive in the population explosion and last but not least, the willingness of this nation to pick up the bill for a permanent soup line. The contribution in this knowledge lies in the fact that only by facing all the realities of the various conditions involved can any food for peace endeavor meet with eventual success.

is $30 a day. Some feel that a daily pay allowance tends to prolong the sessions, but in the case of Iowa the legislators' earnings in 1959 were comparable to what Nebraska will pay henceforth.

Legislators' pay across the country runs from $200 a session to $15,000, but no one has yet been able to cite an instance where a state lawmaker got well-to-do on the basis of his legislative pay check, but there are innumerable instances of legislators absorbing a considerable personal loss from time spent in public service. And it is a general rule that adequate remuneration results both in a better qualified type of legislator and fewer reservations when it comes to giving the state one's undivided attention.

Nebraska should take its satisfaction in granting adequate pay and gaining its economy in its type of legislative organization. There is lots to be said for a one house legislature.

A Success Legend

Tracy S. McCracken, Wyoming newspaper tycoon, died this week. He was a leading citizen of Wyoming, a pillar in the Democratic party there, and an active state builder. He was also a success legend.

McCracken got his start as a newspaper publisher after a busy apprenticeship as a reporter, and he started in 1923 with only $3,000 in his pocket. He acquired a struggling weekly, the Wyoming Eagle. He changed it to a daily, eliminated subscription charges, greatly increased the press run, gave blanket coverage to his field and worked like a dog, as good newspapermen do. His product bloomed and began eliminating competition. Then he restored circulation charges.

In the years that followed, largely by the same formula he built or acquired six daily newspapers, a farm journal and several radio and television stations and, of course, became wealthy. It might be added that he was helped by the great depression. His lean and hungry operation, aided by low cost newsprint and willing, hard working staffs, dealt severe blows to long established competitors encumbered by standards, habits and fat.

Imitators sprang up across the country and during the '30's throw-away papers flourished like dandelions for a short while. But most of them expired or shrank to near useless mediocrity. It was the old story. Buying a horn does not make a musician. The imitators failed to see that McCracken was a genius. The excellence was in himself. His method provided journalism with nothing new nor did it revolutionize the American press. Nor was Mr. McCracken something new to America. The story of rags to riches has been typical of the country from the start and changing times and conditions has not altered the theme. Some succeed despite depressions and inflations and all manner of conditions which frustrate other men.

Cliburn Won't Play For Demos

Washington — Plans are proceeding for one of the most glamorous inaugurations Washington has seen in years. But the ceremonies will be minus one headlined Texan who has received the plaudits of music lovers in Moscow, New York, Washington, and the capitals of Europe.

Mrs. Paul Magnuson, co-chairman of the Inaugural Concert Committee, made a report to her colleagues the other day as follows:

"The concert program is taking shape nicely," she said. "We have no lack of artists who are delighted to participate, except for one — Van Cliburn."

She referred to the young pianist who received the Tchaikovsky award in Moscow and who has played to capacity audiences in Constitutional Hall in the nation's capital.

"Mr. Cliburn," continued Mrs. Magnuson, "said that since he is a Republican he could not participate in Mr. Kennedy's inauguration. But the next time he comes to Washington he said he would be glad to address a joint session of congress."

Liberal Democratic senators meet privately today to map strategy for a showdown with right-wing southern Democrats over which side—the North or the South —will dominate the Senate under President Kennedy.

What they decide will, in turn, decide whether there is a bitter fight at the opening of Congress over filibustering, passing a strong civil rights bill, and knocking Sens. Harry Byrd of Virginia and Jim Eastland of Mississippi out of their committee chairmanships because they don't agree with the Democratic platform. What they decide will also affect the Kennedy legislative program.

Meanwhile, what the Democratic liberals don't know is that another rebellion is springing up on the Republican side of congress, sparked by Congressman John Lindsay of New York. He has got together with other liberal Republicans to work up the same kind of revolt against GOP Leader Charlie Halleck that liberal Democrats are organizing against southern Democrats.

So far no Republican, except ex-speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts, has dared defy Halleck's iron-fisted leadership. But now some GOP congressmen are revolting. And certain Republican senators—Case of New Jersey, Javits and Keating of New York, Cooper of Kentucky—may do likewise in the Senate.

DORIS FLEESON

JFK Cultivates Johnson-Rayburn

WASHINGTON—President-elect Kennedy is yielding every minor point to Vice-President-elect Johnson and the Rayburn-Mansfield leadership of Congress as the new frontiers approach. His apparent strategy is to give them enough rope, which is the classic maneuver of power politics.

They are being consulted and shown every deference. The vice-presidency is being aggrandized along the lines laid down by Vice-President Nixon. Members of the For-Kennedy-Before-The-Wisconsin Primary Club are losing appointments to Johnson-Rayburn favorites.

Jan. 3 next, the moving finger starts to write the legislative performance scorecard for which Johnson, Rayburn and Mansfield have accepted so much tactical responsibility. Their conditions have been met and they are holding the baby for the time being.

If and when they drop it, the next move will be up to Kennedy. Presumably he will be guided in part by the response of the public, but one thing is sure: He himself will know what happened, how it happened and why. The President-elect has been a representative and a senator; he knows the tricks and turns of the legislative branch and he will be deceived only to the extent that he cares to accept deception.

The response so far to the Kennedy strategems has been good. He has given away nothing yet of real substance. The new vice-president gets a chance to show executive brilliance in space matters, but responsibility still rests with the new president.

That Senator Johnson is planning to hold on to his splendidly re-furbished majority leadership offices in the Capitol is no skin off the nose of the head of the White House. Nor is he expected to comment when Johnson sets up a Nixon-model staff complete with the military and marine aides who did so much to smooth the Nixon path and lend luster to his foreign travels.

For himself, Kennedy has said that he would trim down the White House superstructure built under the Eisenhower system of delegating authority. The vice-presidency will be another story, with Johnson seeking fresh means of achieving what might be called the ceremonial enlargement of his office.

Only by constitutional amendment can the vice-president escape by right from the narrow confines the Constitution outlines for him. Anything else must come by presidential favor, which has always been a sometime thing.

It is fair to add that Johnson is a staff man and knows how to get the best results from one. He is responsive to ideas but slow to read and reflect, which are the indispensable conditions for creating them. Details bore him despite the care he takes, in his own phrase, "to touch all the bases," once he has decided on a plan of action.

Further evidence that the Johnsons expect to be extremely busy in the next few years comes from the women's pages with word that Mrs. Johnson has appointed as her own press secretary, Mrs. Tyler Abell, daughter of the senator's close friend, former Senator Earle C. Clements of Kentucky. This is an innovation, but Mrs. Johnson of course is not merely the wife of the vice-president-elect but an important businesswoman with wide interests to look after.

Polite Sneer Toward Arizona

By MONA B. PARKER

It is a season of activity, says a writer for the Bertrand Herald. It is also a time of year "that eventually proves discouraging to those who have tried to knock off a few pounds from the midriff." And the aftermath of holiday stuffing he puts into rhyme: "Better to burp and bear the shame than not to burp and bear the pain."

Someone writing the Kearney Hub was well supplied with holiday seals of one kind and another. In addition to the postage stamp, there were five Christmas seals of different types attached, plus a left-over Thanksgiving stamp.

A letter-writer put something over on Uncle Sam recently, dispelling, so said the Howard County Herald, the theory that "it can't be done."

The piece of mail traveled from Beatrice to a St. Paul resident with only a trade stamp affixed. Proper cancellation marks had been made through the stamp.

Stan Samuelson was remarking that the snow pool in Lyons had so far remained untouched, and there had been no audible complaint on the situation.

Further discussion of the weather brought forth the fact that a local couple are planning a trip to Arizona. And in his best Chamber of Commerce manner, Stan got the last word. True, it's wonderful climate there, he concedes. "If they just had the country to go with it!"

Newsman Dick Lindberg didn't take kindly to remarks about the Sargent Chamber of Commerce,

Raymond Junge of York noted that one 40-foot length of his irrigation pipe was lopsided. Peering inside, he saw two healthy little eyes looking back at him. "An opossum," he thought. His 12-year-old son, Johnnie, raced for a crate, delightedly shouting that he would take it to school. But his father, breathing deeply downwind, decided differently. A stream of hot water failed to dislodge Mr. Skunk—he merely straddled the stream. He even withstood a barrage of bricks for awhile. Finally he emerged, ran between Mr. Junge's legs and raced away with the family dog in hot pursuit.

wondering "what those guys do." He proceeded to set forth editorially in no uncertain terms just what "those guys" have accomplished in recent weeks and months. There was the "Santa Bucks" promotion, the new blacksmith shop that is opening there, the TV booster that has been put back in operation, an active interest in two companies in locating feed mills there, the possibility of securing natural gas, and other community projects that have paid off richly or hold promise of developing into something worthwhile.

There was an item in the Gering Courier that had a heartening spring sound to it. It had to do with the transportation of 24,000 trout from Rock Creek hatchery to Two Rivers.

Loren Fry feels sorry for newspaper workers "who slave for the metropolitan sheets." The Neligh News editor couldn't tolerate the impersonal and mechanical atmosphere of such an enterprise, he says.

"The smaller the town, the more important the news becomes. That's where the folks know all the news before the paper comes out, and they take it simply to see whether or not the editor got the stories according to the way they heard them."

Every time a person starts to feel a little bit cheerful and satisfied with life—and such, someone comes along with a list of food prices a few years ago, and inflation gloom settles down again. The Cambridge Clarion was looking through a March, 1939 issue, and dreaming over such items as two pounds of steak for 35 cents, two pounds of sausage for 30 cents and two pounds of ground beef for 35 cents.

Pure Water

Grand Island, Neb. I enjoyed reading your editorial in the Dec. 27 Star, "Water Big Business." Water certainly is big business, and so important, too, since when there is no water, there is no life.

Water, our most valuable resource, is the most neglected. Our rivers and creeks, once filled with pure drinking water, have been turned into sewer ditches. Water so polluted in our rivers is unfit for man or beast. Sewage treatment plants are not the answer to our disposal problem.

The only safe way to treat sewage is to dispose of it in the Gulf of Mexico by the Missouri River. All other ravines, creeks and rivers in Nebraska should remain filled with pure drinking water and controlled with dams to prevent the waste of runoff water. In 1960 there was enough water run out of Nebraska to supply the state for several years. In March and April, 1961, this waste will be repeated. Such waste has been going on as far back as life itself.

We can control this runoff if we want to by diverting it into underground reservoirs that have been pumped dry. Wells could be drilled down to coarse sand and gravel, and water emptied into the wells will spread out in every direction. Such an effort could be made with very little cost.

Sewage treatment plants and water treatment plants are dangerous to the health of everyone. Such plants are no sooner built than they are too small. The demand for pure water in future years will be so great that it can't be met. Why not keep our water pure and ready for use they way nature brings it to us?

Our elected state officials should start now on our water problems for the future. If we continue as we have in the past, our water problems will become gigantic and more and more serious.

Business Problem

Portland, Ore. We were back in Lincoln to spend Christmas with relatives after having moved away 15 years ago. Lincoln's holiday decorations downtown were simply beautiful at night.

We missed the buses on O Street from east to west. We talked to many old neighbors who were suffering in that area for want of bus transportation and walking 8 to 10 blocks in the cold and on dark streets in the evening. Lincoln businessmen should wake up. They will never encourage new business in Lincoln without good bus transportation, and it surely is lacking. With all the different special committees the city now has, there is so much red tape and jealous businessmen who are afraid that the Gateway Shopping Center will get all the trade. Many people are now isolated between the two locations.

City Lines has the buses. Why make people suffer any longer? Better administration and transportation make for better business.

Airport Parking

Lincoln, Neb. I was interested in the recent letter written by "Disturbed" regarding parking costs at the Lincoln Airport. The letter of Dec. 28 suggested that the restaurant at the airport should pay the parking costs when persons are using its services.

The aim of King's Fine Foods was to bring to the airport the kind of a family restaurant that the people want. We hope we've succeeded. While we knew it would take several years to build up a good profitable business at the airport, we were willing to make this offering. We realized that the expanded air travel and facilities were some way off. Meanwhile, we felt that the city deserved the best. Over 90 per cent of our business has to be realized from city patronage.

Frankly, King's have lost money. This was evident prior to having paid parking and we feel it will be even greater now. We were not aware that paid parking was anticipated there until it was put into use.

Professors Fire On Birth Control Law

New York (AP) — Connecticut's birth control law, which prohibits doctors from prescribing contraceptives, was under fire from 66 professors of obstetrics and gynecology from the nation's top medical schools.

The professors, including one from Marquette University, a Roman Catholic institution, have filed a brief urging the U.S. Supreme court to declare the Connecticut law unconstitutional. The brief was drawn up by Whitney North Seymour, president of the American Bar Association.

Their unprecedented stand is outlined in the current issue of Medical World News, a magazine distributed to physicians throughout the country.

They intervened as friends of the court in behalf of a suit brought by Dr. C. Lee Buxton of the Yale University School of Medicine and two of his patients.

Dr. Buxton contends that the Connecticut law prevents him from prescribing contraceptives "in the interest of preserving life and health."

Profs Support Him

The professors support Dr. Buxton's position and present the following key arguments:

The 14th Amendment protects the right to engage in a profession, free from arbitrary restraints.

The right of a physician to treat patients in a medically approved manner is an essential element of his right to engage in his profession.

A state cannot interfere with the practice of medicine by prohibiting a certain mode of treatment unless the prescribed treatment is medically unsupportable or dubious.

'Compelled To Fail'

Under the Connecticut ban, the teachers contend, the doctor is compelled legally "to fail to live up to the standards of his profession and to neglect the welfare of his patients."

In seeking to have the law upheld, the State of Connecticut says it has the right to choose methods of preventing conception "and there is no obligation that the most modern or scientific remedy be chosen."

The 81-year-old law provides fines and jail sentences against doctors who recommend "any drug, medicinal article or instrument" to prevent conception.

Woman Trapped As Auto Upsets

Mrs. Emma H. Norden, 74, of 3449 East Pershing Rd., was trapped in her car for nearly 30 minutes after it upset on 20th between Lake and Sewell.

Officer Robert Edmunds said the car Mrs. Norden was driving hit a patch of ice on 20th, spun around, hit the west curb, then the east curb, where it upset.

A delivery truck was pulled next to the car to keep it from rolling over while police helped Mrs. Norden out. No injuries were reported.

150,000 Refugees

Berlin (AP)—West Berlin received its 150,000th refugee of 1960 from communism, Mayor Willy Brandt announced Thursday. The 1959 total was 90,860. The flow was stimulated this year by the communist campaign to collectivize all East German farmland.

Congregation OKs Merger

A 29-4 vote of the Evangelical Congregational Ebenezer Church at 8th and B favored merging with the United Church of Christ.

A majority vote by the congregation was part of a national referendum in Congregational churches, according to the Rev. C. George Kuhn, pastor.

Other action taken by the 220-member congregation included the reelection of Ralph A. Giebelhaus as chairman of the board.

Additional officers are Mrs. Minnie Becker, secretary; Joseph Damm, treasurer; and Mrs. Katherine Pabst and her daughter, organist and assistant respectively.

James Amen is the new trustee. New deacons are Rueben Keller and Robert Brill. Bill Amen was named Sunday school superintendent.

An $8,000 budget was adopted by the congregation for 1961 and contributions of $550 were reported to a Christian higher education fund.

Salem Church Tables Vote On United Merger

A motion to vote on merging with the United Church of Christ was tabled by the Salem Congregational Church at 9th and Charleston.

The congregation will vote on the merger in its quarterly meeting in April, according to the Rev. Robert C. Klein, pastor.

"The church decided it would be better to wait a bit longer for a decision," he reported.

A negative vote was cast by members on the merger question during the initial referendum a few years ago, the pastor added.

A budget of $11,000 was set by the 255-member church for the coming year and $500 in contributions to a Christian higher education fund were reported.

A fund has been started for a new heating-air conditioning unit for the church.

Henry Hegel was re-elected chairman for 1961. Other officers:

Raymond Bieber, clerk; Henry Grammk, treasurer; Jack Palmer, Sunday school superintendent; John Reitz, trustee.

Deacons: Pete Worster, Richard Stoehr and Victor Hergenrader.

Sweden Has Just 1 Long-Holiday Traffic Fatality

Stockholm (AP) — Sweden got through the long holiday over Christmas with only one recorded traffic fatality — a man who suddenly stepped in front of a car on an urban street Dec. 22.

Officials believe lives were saved by the 50 m.p.h. highway speed limit imposed Dec. 22-Jan. 10, pointing out that normally 10 to 15 road deaths result in the Dec. 22-26 period.

Woman Claims $25,000 For Injury To Foot

A Lincoln housewife has filed a $25,000 personal injury suit against Safeway Stores Inc. and Proctor and Gamble Distributing Co. in Lancaster District Court.

Mrs. Mary Ann Erickson of 2027 No. 59th alleges her right foot was injured Nov. 4, 1959, when a 20-pound package of laundry soap dropped on it.

She states the handle of the waste-paper basket container, in which the soap was offered, gave way while she was carrying it to the checkout stand at Safeway's 6235 Havelock store.

Proctor and Gamble is named a defendant as the distributor of the nationally-advertised soap.

Her suit for $25,000 in damages includes alleged medical expenses of $63.75.

More Decorations Reported Stolen

Police Wednesday received two more reports of outside Christmas decoration thefts.

Carl R. Jolliff of 1400 Crestline Drive told police a green Christmas wreath with red ribbon and 3 pine cones was taken from his front door. Valued at $4.95, it measured two feet across.

From an outside display of Don Hamlow at 3340 No. 66th, 25 red-colored bulbs were taken. Loss was $3.75.

Judge Nuernberger Retains Same Probation Office Staff

Juvenile Judge W. W. Nuernberger said Thursday he plans no changes in the present staff of the County Juvenile Probation Office.

Judge Nuernberger said he will reappoint Mrs. Helen Cox as chief juvenile probation officer and will retain all members of her staff.

The judge also said he does not plan to hire a full-time court reporter as authorized by law. Court reporters receive $7,000 a year under state law.

Judge Nuernberger said he will hire a free-lance reporter on a part-time basis if the need arises. He noted there were only two or three formal court hearings requested by juveniles last year which would have required a court reporter.

He said he has hired retiring District Judge Harry Ankeny's bailiff, W. F. Paulsen, as bailiff for the Juvenile Court.

Judge Nuernberger was sworn in last week and is now presiding over juvenile cases, although the County Board still has not provided him with an office or courtroom.

Another new judge, District Judge-elect Elmer Scheele, also announced his staff. Judge Ankeny's court reporter, Eva Hannan, will serve as his court reporter and H. L. Graham will be his bailiff.

Graham has been bailiff for District Judge Harry Spencer, who has been elected to the State Supreme Court.

PROSECUTION OF MAILER UNLIKELY

New York (AP) — With his wife standing beside him in court, author Norman Mailer sought unsuccessfully for dismissal of a charge of stabbing and seriously wounding her on Nov. 20. However, the district attorney's office indicated it might not press the case.

Magistrate George S. Rader said the district attorney was entitled to make further investigation and adjourned the hearing to Jan. 12.

The 37-year-old Mailer, author of "The Naked and the Dead" and other books, was charged with assault. He was accused of stabbing his wife, Adele, with a pen-knife after a party in their apartment.

Mrs. Mailer refused to sign a complaint.

Jensen Charges Conservation Of Water Lagging

State Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora charged Thursday that agencies involved in water conservation in Nebraska have failed to carry out the assignment aggressively enough.

Unless the job is pursued with more vigor, "I'm going to do something about it," he said.

Jensen is an irrigation farmer in Hamilton County.

He said he is concerned not only about groundwater levels affecting pump irrigators, but about the fact "we are letting surface water get away."

Water conservation efforts have been short changed as the result of preoccupation with soil conservation, he said.

Jensen said he is not proposing the creation of a new agency of state government, but said he would not hesitate to introduce legislation for the appropriation of tax money to finance water conservation if necessary.

"If appropriations for soil conservation are a good investment, so are appropriations for water conservation," he declared.

He said the state's Department of Water Resources has never been given either the authority or the funds to push aggressively for water conservation.

He expressed concern over the job being done by the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee, local districts and especially of technicians employed at the county level.

Hostesses For Holiday Ball

Busy describes the teenage set this holiday season in Lincoln. Wednesday evening the girls at Northeast High School and their escorts were guests at the Holiday Ball at the Hotel Cornhusker for which nine feminine members of the junior class were hostesses.

Dear Abby— Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The company my husband works for had a Christmas party. I got down on my hands and knees and begged him not to go this year because last year he came home drunk with lipstick all over his face. Well, he went anyway and came home drunker this year than last and full of lipstick. I hit him on the head with a lunch bucket and cut his head open a little bit. (He was lucky I didn't kill him.) He said he only went to show the men he wasn't henpecked. Do you blame me for hitting him?

AGGIE

DEAR AGGIE: A woman has no more right to hit her husband than a man has to hit his wife, no matter how high the feeling (or the husband) is. Your husband certainly didn't need ANOTHER hole in his head; he has one.

DEAR ABBY: What can you do about a neighbor who, knowing perfectly well you have company, charges right in the front door, marches into your kitchen and remains there monopolizing the conversation right up until the time your company leaves?

Honestly, I can't stand the thought of hurting her feelings, because I know I am welcome in her home anytime, but I would never do to her what she does to me. I have had friends, who I haven't seen in years, come to visit me, and we have so much to catch up on, but this neighbor takes up all our time. Even my relatives think twice before coming over because they know she will be here. It's getting me down. Is there a solution?

LOSING PATIENCE

DEAR LOSING: Yes. Tell your neighbor straight from the shoulder that she is welcome to "drop in" any time, but when she sees that you have company, you'd appreciate privacy. If you lose her friendship, you aren't out much.

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a couple being engaged for 16 years? The girl is my sister. It has become a family joke, only it's not funny anymore. She is 41 and he's in his fifties. They go everywhere together. This man attends all our family gatherings and she goes to his. There has been no ugly gossip about them, but it's embarrassing for the family. Should we continue to include him as a member of our family, knowing our sister will probably die an old maid?

SOMEBODY'S SISTER

DEAR SIS: There is no law against an engaged couple going together. If your sister doesn't mind, why ostracize them?

CONFIDENTIAL TO F. D. ON "PRIMROSE": Are you eating because he's cheating—or is he cheating because you're eating?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A": Just because a man falls in love with a dimple is no reason he has to marry the whole girl.

News Of Suburbia

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Holiday travelers in Hollingsworth Heights were the members of the William Blain family, who spent the Christmas holidays in Grand Island visiting relatives. They left the suburb for Grand Island on Christmas Eve.

Another holiday traveler is Miss Judy Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cox who left Thursday for Kansas City, Kan., to be a houseguest of one of her Delta Gamma sorority sisters, Miss Lois Deane of Kansas City. Miss Cox and Miss Deane are both students at the University of Nebraska.

FIENE HEIGHTS

A double Christmas celebration was in store for Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schneider and their family, as Mrs. Schneider's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Schneider of York, participated in the traditional Christmas celebrations with the Schneiders.

Houseguests for the Christmas holidays at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Robert Campbell were Mrs. Campbell's brother and sister-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Richard Williams of Wichita, Kan., and their small son, Stephen.

And mention of the Campbells reminds us that they will be moving from the suburb on January 4, to the Lincoln Air Force Base. Their new address will be 3476 Walker Dr. The younger generation of the Campbell family includes Bobby, Mike, and Kenneth.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger vonGillern on Friday will be Lt. and Mrs. Stu Howerter of Big Springs, Tex. Also visiting at the Harding home then was Jim Eckhardt, a student at the University of Colorado, who stopped in Lincoln last week en route to his home in Miami.

—We're right next door to New Year's Eve and judging from all of the preparations it would seem 1960 will be leaving in a blaze of merrymaking. The revelers, by the way, also will welcome 1961 and we fervently hope that the innocent new year will bring nothing but that which is good.

One of the large New Year's Eve parties will be the Gayniggers dinner dance at Hotel Lincoln. The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luikart Jr., chairman; Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mr. and Mrs. James Nissen, Dr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Harold Maude.

Adding to the festivities will be a number of guest couples including Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Parchem of Littleton, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Porter of Duluth, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jensen of Springfield, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. John Saylor of St. Paul, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. William Clay of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaw of David City, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sack of York; Mr. and Mrs. William Fulkerson of Topeka, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Newton, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stamm of St. Louis; Dr. and Mrs. Norris Haring of Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Martin of San Francisco, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Novak, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scheele, Mr. and Mrs. Don Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. George Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cederdahl, Dr. and Mrs. Dale Capek, Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Kleitsch, Mr. and Mrs. Don Patoka, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pedersen, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sweet, and Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Marshall.

—Yesterday, so we hear, was "happy birthday" day for Mrs. C. W. Taves. Mrs. Taves, unfortunately, celebrated the anniversary at Lincoln General Hospital where she is confined because of a broken leg.

—But back to New Year's Eve activity — Among the hosts and hostesses will be Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Rinne who have invited guests for three tables of bridge—and a midnight supper.

ASK— Dorothy Draper

Have you thought of using a tree for a corner decoration? It's becoming "quite the thing" as the fashion magazines say to fill an otherwise empty corner with a fake tree. It may be anything from a wispy weeping willow to a crisp white-flowered dogwood.

It not only serves to bring a feeling of the outdoors inside, but is much more decorative with its irregular shaped branches than a chair or chest.

If you are lucky enough to have friends who live in the country, ask them to bring in some good-sized branches from an apple (or any) tree. Then buy some artificial flowers or leaves of the variety you like, and make your own tree.

Set in an interesting container filled with stones and dirt to hold the tree in place. It may be a copper pot, a wooden tub, painted a gay color, or a wide-mouthed can placed inside an intriguing basket.

If you plan your lighting just right you should be able to muster up some enchanting wall shadows with your branch effects. Do try it!

Mrs. E. M. asks: "I have a color problem. My living room is 12x23, faces south with lots of windows, so I have plenty of light but a very drab room. My carpet is beige—walls lighter beige with matching plain drapes. Davenport and matching chair are light brown. One off-white chair and another beige chair (to be re-upholstered) table, etc. in walnut.

Dear Mrs. E. M.:

Take a walk in the country and see all the lovely colors Nature tosses around. Then go back and see what is wrong with your timid beiges and light browns. Why not paint the walls a dark grassy-green? Cover your off-white and the beige chairs in a gay tangerine, green and white print. It will be worth the trouble and you'll be surprised at the transformation.

Mrs. B.L. asks:

"I have just acquired from my great-grandparents home, two antique velvet pieces, one deep burgundy and the other midnight blue, and a needlepoint chair. These pieces have given my room a "gloomy" look. What would you suggest I do to brighten it up?"

With all your lovely antique pieces you have just acquired from your great-grandparents' home, the deep burgundy and midnight blue antique velvet pieces are the needlepoint chair, I would use white, white, white—for lamps, draperies—everything! Then put a bowl of the brightest yellow daffodils or yellow chrysanthemums on your table and you'll no longer have to worry about that "gloomy" look.

Mrs. H. G. N. asks: "Is there anything new in window screening?"

Dear Mrs. H. G. N.: Yes, aluminum screening now comes in charcoal, green, gold and silvertone.

We Hear That

A holiday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Rhoades is their son, David, who arrived last Thursday from Lawrence, Kan., where he is a member of the high school faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kreifels are the parents of a son, Thomas Edward, who was born on Saturday, Dec. 17, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The baby has three older brothers and also three sisters, and his mother is the former Darlene Koke of Gretna.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

...By B. Jay Becker

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West North East South
1♦ Dble. Pass ?
2. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?
1. ♠K862 ♥A954 ♦— ♣QJ973
2. ♠Q75 ♥J73 ♦KJ84 ♣A96
3. ♠8 ♥J752 ♦8742 ♣AK73
4. ♠KQ97432 ♥8 ♦J6 ♣963

1. Two diamonds. Let's say you have this hand and partner deals and opens the bidding with a spade, a heart, or a club. Naturally, you would assume that your side has a game, and you would bid in such a way that a game contract would eventually be reached.

The fact that an opponent opens the bidding should not change your feelings in the matter once partner makes a takeout double and thus shows that he has the values for an opening bid. Here again you should feel your side has a game, and the only question that arises is how best to reach it.

The proper bid is to make a cuebid of the opponent's suit. Rather than guess whether North's best suit is spades, hearts, or clubs, it is better to bid two diamonds and force him to select the trump suit. Which ever suit he chooses, you can then raise him directly to game.

2. Two notrump. You don't often hold an 11-point hand when partner makes a takeout double. Usually you have 4 or 5 points, maybe less, when you respond with a suit. But when you do have substantially more than the normal expectancy after partner doubles, the most common way of showing the surplus values is to jump the bidding.

With this balanced hand that includes diamond strength as well as 11 points, the most illuminating response to make is two notrump.

3. One heart. We don't have quite enough strength to make a jump response, so the only question is whether to respond one heart or two clubs. The heart response is preferable because the doubler is nearly always more interested in hearing about major suits than minor suits. This is readily understandable, since it is easier to make a 10-trick game than an 11-trick game.

The heart response has a greater chance of leading to a sound game contract than the club response, and this is true despite the great difference in quality between the two suits.

4. Three spades. This is not a strength-showing bid, but merely announces great spade length. It is a pre-emptive bid similar to an opening three bid as dealer. The doubler may pass if he does not have values beyond those already revealed. The strength-showing response would be two spades.

Rejection Of Blind Omahan Causes A Stir ... 'EVEN KICKED DOG'

Omaha (AP) — The refusal of a restaurant operator to permit a 30-year-old blind Omahan to enter the establishment with his guide dog, stirred up a tempest here.

Delton Boyer said he and his wife, with his guide dog assisting him, started to enter a restaurant Wednesday, but was shoved backward by the proprietor.

He said the proprietor kept shoving and hitting him and would not let him explain that he was blind.

"He even kicked the dog," Boyer said.

It all stems from an Omaha ordinance making it illegal for a pet to enter a restaurant.

Dr. Edwin Lyman, city-county health director said the operator used poor judgment in barring Boyer.

Nothing Stated

"There's nothing in our health ordinance to cover the situation but you can't expect a blind man to leave his dog at the curb," he said.

"We should temper our decisions with judgment," Dr. Lyman said. "There's no harm in letting a blind man and his dog in a restaurant, provided he does not enter places where food is being prepared."

Boyer, who returned from California a month ago, said he had called the Omaha-Douglas County Health Board in advance and got verbal permission to visit restaurants with his dog.

Robert McCormick, city-county supervisor of food sanitation, said: "We hadn't anticipated Boyer would have trouble. I'll probably take the matter up with the Omaha restaurant association."

Charges Dropped Against Madison's Board Chairman

Madison (P) — Embezzlement charges against Virgil C. Kilmer, Madison County board chairman, were dismissed Thursday by District Judge F. H. Pollock.

His ruling followed a preliminary hearing held Thursday morning.

In his written ruling, Judge Pollock said the statute dealing with embezzlement makes it a crime to embezzle money or property, but not the use of property or men.

Widow Will Face Trial, Jury Rules

Omaha (P) — A coroner's jury deliberated for one and a half hours Thursday then ruled the widow of a patrolman fatally shot a week ago should be held for trial.

County officials indicated manslaughter charges would be filed.

Georgia Ellen Wells, 33, was quoted at the inquest into the death of Leslie J. Wells, as saying well, he kept asking for it and I gave it to him. I shot him right in the middle where it will do the most good."

William D. Noyes, assistant to Public Safety Director Lynn Carey testified this statement was made to him by Mrs. Wells shortly after the shooting.

FRONTIER HEAD GIVES APOLOGY

Sidney (UPI) — In a letter to Tom Coffey, city manager here, L. B. Maytag, president of Frontier Airlines apologized for misinformation concerning Frontier flights here.

Several complaints had been made by people who said they were informed that Frontier served Sidney only once a day.

In the letter, Maytag said he had once again brought to the attention of all concerned that under a temporary schedule, Frontier was serving Sidney with two round trips daily. Maytag said Frontier was under court injunction to follow this schedule.

Nothing But The Best For Looters

Carroll (P) — Burglars, with a taste for the best, broke into Holly's Tavern and left with an estimated $1,200 in top-grade liquor and cash.

Sheriff John Weible called it a "professional job," saying the safe door was drilled and then blown open.

About $700 in cash and checks were taken along with between $500 and $600 of expensive liquor.

OMAHA MAYOR SAYS:

Interstate Foe's Data 'Erroneous'

Omaha (P) — Mayor John Rosenblatt said an Omahan who challenged Omaha Interstate Highway figures had erroneous information.

Herman Merten, whose home is in the path of the Interstate, wired the major asking an investigation of figures the city furnished to justify the routing of the Interstate through Omaha.

Said Merten's wire:

"You or your representative submitted an Omaha population figure of 435,000 for 1960.

"Actual census figures show 301,000. You reported vehicle daily trips (traffic movement in and out of the city) of 4,578,548. This exceeds the one turned in by Detroit, Mich., with a population of 1,849,568."

Aust Comments

Planning Director Alden F. Aust said the 435,000 population was for the Omaha metropolitan area and turned out to be conservative.

He said the census showed this section to be 457,000.

He said the report, prepared by private consulting firms, estimated Omaha's population at 297,000, also less than the official census figure.

The Omaha trip figure, said another city official, Public Works Director George Fish-

New Potato Record Set

Nebraska recorded the highest average potato yield in the state's history this year, the state-federal division of Agricultural Statistics reported Thursday.

Output averaged 168 hundredweight per acre from 16,900 acres for a total of 2,840,000 hundredweight, up 6 percent from last year's 2,677,000.

Total production, however, fell far below the 1949-53 average of 3,707,000 hundredweight.

Last year's yield per acre was 154 hundredweight and acreage totaled 17,400.

The average harvested acreage is 27,400 and the yield, 135 hundredweight per acre.

nouncement said articles of incorporation were filed in Topeka, Kan. The company said Helium, Inc., would be jointly owned by Kansas-Nebraska and Linde Co., a division of Union Carbide of New York.

The Helium firm will participate in Bureau of Mines programs for extraction and conservation of helium gas, according to the Kansas-Nebraska announcement.

The company said a proposal has been filed asking the Bureau of Mines for permission to build a helium extracting plant on the Kansas-Nebraska pipeline near Scott City, Kansas. The plant would cost several million dollars, the company said.

KITZBUEHEL — The 17-day, all-expense air vacation to the ski country has filled the Austrian Tyrol with stretch ski pants.

I flew over in 14 hours from San Francisco, even allowing a three-hour layover in New York. So fast do we travel these jet-powered days from the Golden Gate to the snowy mountains of Austria.

The ancient walled town of 7000 Catholic souls is swelled to three times that number by the winter skiers. (Winter air rates make this the cheapest vacation of the year to Europe.)

The local druggist and the local photographer closed up shop and became ski instructors. And all the bright, shining slopes of the enormous mountains flash the rainbow colors of people sliding down hill.

During the day the town is almost empty — except for the cane-and-crutch casualties.

A tiny train from the express line peanut whistles around the town.

And each opening door sends a burst of light and concertina music into the frosty night.

The other night we went up to check the action. The most active spot was Praxmair's, whose walls are still waiting a repainting of the Tatzelwurm, a local dragon whose daily meal was a Kitzbuehel virgin.

"We painted the walls this fall," said the proprietor worriedly. "And we painted over the mural of the Tatzelwurm. Now we are waiting for the painter to repain it. But he is busy in Salzburg."

The painting was not a great work of art. But it was quite famous.

You could sit at Praxmair's bar with a local weinbrand and see the scaly monster taking a bite at a plump painted virgin. (He had a look in his eye like the front row at the burlesque.)

All the regular customers have been complaining at Praxmair's. And the proprietor seemed about ready to take a bite out of one of the waitresses. He was that upset.

The most elegant spot in town is the Grand Hotel. It is a huge chalet-type building, sprawling across the front of the town.

At its gate, an iron militiaman stands continual guard as they did in 1809. An ancient iron musket in his iron hands and snow on his iron moustache.

"Kitzbuehel owes its good fortune to the Prince of Wales," said the waiter at the Grand. An orchestra of violins played Austrian waltzes in the lounge. And the Austrian red wine glowed in the glass.

"It was the Prince who came here in 1935. He stayed at this very hotel.

"He skied a little. That is what made Kitzbuehel the best-known ski village in the Tyrol."

"But that is not what we remember," said the waiter sentimentally. (The orchestra began playing "Wien, Wien.") "What endears that dear man to our hearts is overlooked by you writers.

"It was the day the Prince disappeared. Such a commotion! His entourage looked high and low. The police were called. The ancient gates were guarded.

"Where do you think we found him?"

"We found him down at Eggwirt's restaurant. There he sat, smiling and contented, eating a Tyrolean Knodel — our most famous dumpling.

"The Prince ate that dumpling to the last delicious crumb.

"You can compliment our snow and our scenery," said the Grand waiter. "But when you eat our dumplings! Ah, there you touch our hearts."

Grubbs To Head Insurance Firm

... Fidelity Title Co. Is Newly Incorporated

William E. Grubbs, state insurance director who will resign Jan. 5, said Thursday he will become president of a newly incorporated Nebraska insurance company, the Fidelity Title Insurance Co.

Grubbs, a Democrat appointed by the late Democratic Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, told Governor-Elect Frank Morrison he would not be available for reappointment. Until this time, Grubbs had been silent on his future plans.

Dale Tinstman, local investment banker and one of the company's 9 incorporators said that Grubbs would assume the position of president of the company upon completion of his Statehouse duties Jan. 5.

The articles of incorporation were filed Thursday in the secretary of state's office with an authorized capital stock of $500,000.

The company's main purpose will be the issuing of title insurance policies and accessory title services.

Other officers beside Grubbs include: Sidney H. Sweet, executive vice-president; Bennett S. Martin, treasurer, and Edward M. O'Shea Jr., secretary.

Tinstman said that Edward T. Gardner of Eugene, Ore., would act as a vice-president. Gardner will act as special consultant to the company, Tinstman said.

Tinstman said the company would withhold application for a license until after the new insurance commissioner has assumed his duties.

The offices of the new company will be located in the Terminal Building at 10th and O Streets in Lincoln.

For the first time in the history of the Nebraska Railway Commission, a comprehensive set of rules of practice and procedure has been codified into one looseleaf book.

Commission chairman Joseph Brown said the codification was aimed at making it easier for anyone to find out how the commission operates and what rules govern its decisions.

Previously, interested persons had to hunt through scattered general orders and resolutions to discover what the rules and regulations of the commission were, Brown said.

The job, which took almost two years to complete, was done largely by staff members, department heads and technical assistants, one being a professor in the College of Law at the University of Nebraska.

"Both lay and professional employees of industries, invoking commission jurisdiction rendered valuable help, as did members of the state bar and other interested persons," Brown said.

Samuel Van Pelt headed the codification. He has been a staff member of the commission for four years and will graduate from the University of Nebraska.

NORFOLK FIRM INCORPORATES

Articles of incorporation were filed with the Nebraska secretary of state's office Thursday by the Elkhorn Construction Co., Norfolk.

Incorporators were Leo Sokol of Duncan, Anna M. Medelman of Battle Creek and Miles H. Medelman of Norfolk. The firm was authorized to issue $150,000 in capital stock.

Other filings, including amounts of capital stock authorized (except for non-profit associations):

Platte Valley Quarter Horse Association, Lexington; Miles Hart of Cozad, Glenn Knopple and Vaughn Rhone, both of Lexington; Harry O. Brooke of Kearney, Wayne Jenkins of Oconto, Barry Palmer of Holdrege and C. L. Scott of North Platte; non-profit.

Domestication papers to do business in Nebraska were filed by the Stearns Dairy Co., a Colorado corporation. Incorporators are S. R. Kirkpatrick, J. F. McLeod and Carl A. Falk, all of Omaha; the resident agent will be J. Gordon Roberts of Elkhorn; the authorized capital stock was $450,000.

Personal Injury Suit Is Appealed

A $31,448 personal injury suit growing out of a 1958 auto accident near Crete was appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court Thursday.

Mrs. Genevieve Hammon asked the amount from James Brazda, on grounds she will be permanently disabled by injuries received when the car in which she was riding collided with a car driven by Brazda.

The district court for Saline County dismissed her case, and she appealed.

K-STATE VICTOR IN OVERTIME

Kansas Suffers 69-66 Setback

... EWY'S GIFTERS DECIDE

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Kansas City, Mo. — Kansas State reigns as champion of the 15th annual Big 8 Basketball Tournament after pulling out a sensational 69-66 overtime victory against the Kansas Jayhawks Thursday night.

It was one of the most exciting windups for this thrill-packed affair and, the 10,000 screaming fans were nerve-racked most of the evening—but particularly during the last minute of regulation play and the hectic overtime period.

In the first game of the night, Iowa State whipped Oklahoma 67-55 for 3rd place and Nebraska ripped Oklahoma State, 70-61 for 5th in the afternoon finale.

Missouri was dumped in the cellar for the 3rd straight year, 99-79, by Colorado.

Jays Come Back
Kansas State had a 59-53 lead with 9:46 left in the game, but big Wayne Hightower hit a couple of buckets to spark a comeback that saw the Jayhawks tie it at 61-61 with 3:57 left.

Hightower hit a free throw and Larry Heywood of KU and Larry Comley—a terror on the boards all night—added free shots to make it 62-62 with 1:15 left.

The Wildcats played for the last shot, but Comley's long cast with 9 seconds left was wide and overtime was assured.

KU Ahead
Little Jerry Gardner hit a jumper to put KU in front, 64-62 and Bill Bridges chipped in with another two-pointer.

Comley brought K-State back with a free throw and a bucket before Pat McKenzie hit two free shots to give the Wildcats a 67-66 lead with 3:05 left.

Then the pace quickened and bedlam was the order of the night.

Confusion
There were jump balls, lost balls, stolen passes and with 1:27 KU took time out. Hightower missed a shot with 1:09 left and Comley cleared again.

McKenzie missed a free shot, then Bridges missed for KU with 22 seconds left.

At Peithman of Hebron, Neb., missed on a one-and-one foul chance with 18 seconds left and Gardner missed a jumper with 7 seconds left. K-State's ship finally came in with 2 seconds left when Dick Ewy was fouled by Butch Ellison. Ewy sunk both shots to make it 69-66 and insure the Wildcats' 8th straight win and a 9-2 season record to date.

Last Chance
KU had one chance. Gardner heaved into Ellison who tried a three-quarter court shot which hit on top of the board as the game ended.

It was Kansas State's 4th tourney championship, matching KU's total.

The first half was just one basket exchange after another, with neither team getting any advantage until the final two minutes.

With KU in front 36-34, Comley went on a rampage and whistled in 4 different shots to give the Wildcats a 42-36 lead at the half-way point.

The score was tied twice more before the final spurge which led to the exciting overtime.

Bridges High
Comley's 20 points was high for K-State, but top honors went to Bridges with 26. Hightower had 23.

Acquaintance Renewed

Kansas City, Mo.—Renewing old acquaintances here during the Big 8 basketball tourney is Thurlo McCready, former Hastings College coach and Kansas State athletic director.

Thurlo currently is Man Friday to Joe Foss, president of the struggling American Football League.

"I know it's hard to believe," Thurlo said, "but we feel we had a good first year. This sounds strange since we (club owners) lost $2 million, but the owners expected—and were willing to lose money for 3 years."

McCready, who lives in Dallas, said all clubs were ready to go again.

"Tell everyone in Lincoln and Nebraska hello," he urged. "Say, I'll be able to see a lot of old friends up there shortly—my daughter is getting married and she'll be living in Lincoln."

Little Men

Patrons at the NU Coliseum during the regular Big 8 race, are going to see some outstanding individual players this winter—big and little.

Of course, there are the established giants like Wayne Hightower and Bill Bridges of Kansas, Charles Henke of Missouri, Henry Whitney of Iowa State, Brian Etheridge and Jack Lee of Oklahoma, Larry Comley and Ced Price of Kansas State, Wilky Gilmore and Roger Voss of Colorado. All of these boys are 6-5 or taller.

But there are several "little men" who are going to supply plenty of excitement.

My favorite after two tourney games is Eddie Evans of Oklahoma, a 5-9, 19-year-old sophomore. He's quick and probably is the fastest man in the tourney—and he's got a deadly outside jump shot.

Another standout among the floor generals is Colorado's Joe Beckner, 5-9 senior from Richmond, Ind. He does a good job of sparking the Buffs and has a host of tricky moves.

Incidentally, Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Orwig played against Beckner's father when the latter was captain of the Indiana basketball team and all Big 10 guard.

Peithman Steady

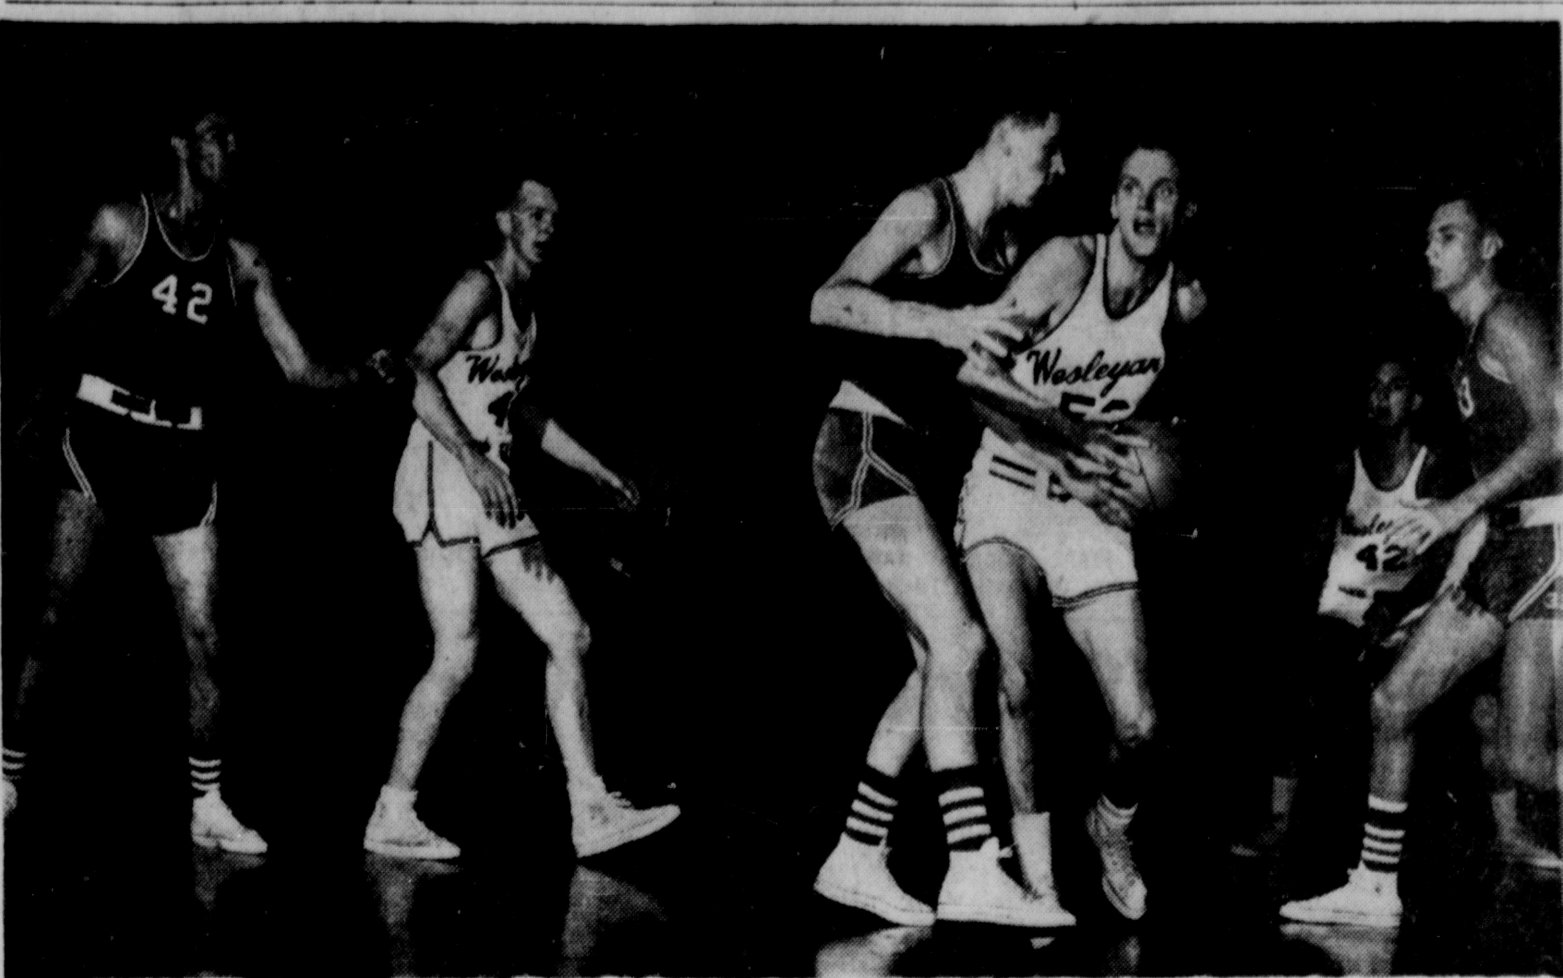

Al Peithman of Hebron, Neb., who is 6-1, was not a standout but he's steady and will play a lot of ball for the K-State Wildcats. A sophomore, Al popped 2 clutch free throws in the final seconds of the 62-56 win over Colorado.

Some of the other better non-scrappers are Moe Iba (6-1) of Oklahoma State, son of coach Henry Iba, Jerry Gardner (5-11) of Kansas and Gary Wheeler of Iowa State. Missouri, by the way, is the only team in the league that does not have a player under 6-0—and the Tigers have the worst record, indicating height isn't everything. Then, again, the tallest Tiger is 6-7, indicating that height is fine as long as you have one or two over 6-7.

Long Range Picks

While the Point Blank crystal ball is in Lincoln, I'll try to "solo" with some bowl predictions . . . Gator: Baylor 9, Florida 7 . . . Shrine: East 16, West 8 . . . Blue-Gray: Blue 20, Gray 14 . . . Orange: Bellino 14, Missouri 6 . . . Sugar: Ole Miss 27, Rice 6 . . . Cotton: Arkansas 13, Duke 7 . . . Roses: Minnesota 19, Washington 15.

Plainsmen, Coloradoans Grab Opening Victories

... CULVER-STOCKTON, OMAHA U TOPPLED

By Larry Novicki

Nebraska Wesleyan and Colorado College will meet tonight at 8:45 in the championship game of the Wesleyan Holiday basketball tournament at Pershing Auditorium.

Wesleyan jumped to a 40-19 halftime lead and breezed to a 77-60 win over Culver-Stockton of Canton, Mo.

Colorado College got a scare from cold-shooting, but before winning 74-66 in the opener. Omaha meets Culver-Stockton in the consolation game tonight at 7.

Coach Irv Peterson substituted freely against icy Culver-Stockton which has played just one game since Dec. 13.

Jim Munford, 6-4, and Dennis Semin, 6-5, cashed 21 points between them in leading the Plainsmen to their overwhelming halftime.

After tying the score at 2-2 with about 2 minutes gone in the game, Wesleyan paced to a 24-11 lead midway in the first period.

Culver-Stockton, behind a 6-point spree by Jim Bailey, moved up to 30-19 with a little over 2 minutes left in the half.

But Claire Fredstrom, using a bit of ball-thievery and sharpshooting, hit 3 fielders and Lonnie Ehlers added two to pull Wesleyan well out in front.

In the second half, Wesleyan led by as much as 24 points, before Culver-Stockton got hot and closed the gap to 11 at 59-48.

Munford and freshman Dick Nelson stepped into the limelight then and shot the Plainsmen back to a more comfortable lead.

In the opener Thursday night, winless Omaha grabbed an early lead over tourney favorite Colorado College and held it until 6:05 was left in the first half.

Joe Neuberger and Bill

Derra led the young Indians in their fruitless upset bid. Omaha's 66 points was the highest it has scored this season in 8 straight losses.

Neuberger and Derra each had 9 points in the first half, and Bruce Hunter, a bounding 6-2 hustler, played havoc with rebounds against the taller Coloradoans.

But, Coach Sonny Means' inexperienced club ran down near the end of the period and went into the dressing room behind 42-33.

The margin remained the same until 3 minutes had gone by in the second half. Omaha put on another dazzling show of hustle to climb within 3 points of CC with 11 minutes left.

Peru, Anderson Snare Openers

Falls City—Peru State and Anderson, Ind., College scored easy opening wins in the Peru 4-State Basketball Tournament here Thursday night.

Anderson smashed Panhandle A&M of Oklahoma, 106-69 after a 49-33 halftime lead. Peru pulled away in the second half for an 80-69 win over Simpson, Ia.

Both winning teams had 30-point scorers. Ken Strawn scored 33 for Anderson, and tall Bob Buettgenbach tallied 32 for Peru. Buettgenbach got 24 of his points in the second half as Peru moved away from a 34-30 halftime press.

Top scoring honors however, went to Utah's Billy (The Hill) McGill, who scored 32.

In the afternoon consolation twin bill St. Joseph's of Philadelphia whipped Pennsylvania 85-68 and Seton Hall upset Providence 92-83.

The Indians bombarded the basket the second half, but hit less than one 4th of their shots.

When the Omaha spree cooled down, Colorado College, behind Jim Hanks and Art Ackerman, pulled away once more.

Hanks wound up with 26 points, including 12 of 15 free throws. Neuberger was high for Omaha with 15.

Kowalke Hurts Ankle In Win

... FREE THROWS TOP O-STATE

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Kansas City, Mo.—Nebraska completed a surprisingly good comeback in the 15th annual Big 8 Basketball Tournament by whipping dogged Oklahoma State, 70-61 Thursday afternoon to clinch 5th place.

It was a costly victory in that Jim Kowalke, star senior forward, suffered a serious ankle injury late in the first half.

He did not play the final 5 minutes of the first half and sat out the second and it won't be known until later whether or not Jim may be available for the Jan. 7 date with Missouri at Lincoln in the loop opener.

Same Fashion

Thursday's victory was accomplished in the same fashion as the Wednesday win over Missouri.

Nebraska repeated its fine showing of Wednesday in whacking Henry Iba's deliberate Cowboys before some 2,000 fans at Municipal Auditorium.

A late slump at the foul line made the contest a dilly after NU had gained a 11-point margin, 63-52 with only 5 minutes left.

Charities Decide

However, the Huskers final edge was determined at the line as they whistled through 30 of 42 foul shots. Against Missouri they converted 34 free throws.

OSU out-shot NU from the field, 24-20.

Both clubs were hampered by the loss of key players. Of course, Kowalke's absence was a serious blow to the Huskers and Bill Bowers—who tallied 11 points on a bucket and 9 of 11 free shots as well as grabbing 6 rebounds—fouled out with 6:04 left.

Oklahoma State lost ace shooter Moe Iba (10) with 12:22 left; Fritz Greer (12) left with 2:09 left; and Eddie Bunch, the 6-7 pivot, who got 15 points, fouled out with 1:47 left.

Greer and Cecil Epperly teamed to cut the NU lead to 4 points, 63-59 with 2:30 left before they fouled out and the Cowboys were well within range.

Huskers Miss

Cyclones Capture 3rd Place, 67-55

Kansas City (AP) — Iowa State got fine jobs from Henry Whitney and playmaker Gary Wheeler in beating Oklahoma 67-55 for 3rd place in the Big 8 basketball tournament Thursday night.

Iowa State, the tournament champion last year, had a tight tussle with the Sooners the first half made the turn only two points ahead 28-26.

Oklahoma stayed close until midway in the second period when the Cyclones took a substantial lead.

Whitney, the 6-7 sharpshooter from Brooklyn N.Y., plunked in 20 points and rebounded well for the Cyclones. Wheeler, 5-10 junior from Tama, Ia., scored 18 points and played a sparkling floor game.

Oklahoma's 6-6 Warren Fouts scored 15 points but lacked the team support needed to overcome the Cyclones.

It was Iowa State's 5th victory of the season against 4 defeats. Oklahoma has an 8-3 record.

Oklahoma was cold from the field, hitting only 21 of 72 shots for 29.2 per cent. Iowa State collected on 24 of 68 for 35.3.

But with 1:04 left in the hair-raiser, Tommy Russell—who was a demon on the boards, pacing both clubs with 15 rebounds—hit a free throw.

Roots followed with 2 more. Swett added another and it was 67-59.

Roots, who joined Swett in giving NU the best guard job it had all season, added a lay-up and a free throw with 10 seconds left.

Swett Hits 18
Swett, repeating his excellent work of Wednesday, sparked the Huskers with 18 points, edging Epperly for high honors by one point.

Russell got 13 and Roots and Bowers, with 11, gave the Huskers 4 men in double figures.

Both clubs leave the tournament with 6-4 records on the eve of Big 8 serious business—the conference race.

The Huskers wound up with a 41.7 field goal shooting percentage and hit 71.4 from the line. OSU was 35.3 from the field and 76.5 from the line.

Jim Huges' jumper with 5 seconds left gave the Huskers a 34-32 halftime lead.

Colorado 99, Missouri 79

Colorado's win over Missouri was the second straight 90-point production against the Tigers, who finished 8th for the 3rd straight time and the 4th time in the 15-year history of the tourney.

No other club has that many booby prizes.

CU's 99 points—the final two in the last second—set a new tournament record for a regulation game surpassing the 98 points scored by Kansas State in 1953.

The Buffs spurted far ahead in the first half, saw the Tigers pull up 45-37 at halftime, and then roared away in the second half on the strength of a 47.9 field goal percentage. The Buffs hit 51.3 in the first half.

All told, 5 Buffaloes scored in double figures, with Ken Charlton and Wilky Gilmore hitting 24 and 22, respectively.

Charlie Henke, who scored 41 against Nebraska Wednesday, led Missouri with 27, while Joe Scott—held to 8 by the Huskers—scored 25.

Missouri now has lost 10 straight tournament games.

Colorado ran its season record to 8-3, while Missouri is 2-7.

Wayne, the host, grabbed the second game from Adams State of Colorado 83-67 after moving to a comfortable 42-31 lead at the half.

St. Cloud held a 33-29 half-time margin. Top scorers were Don Carruth with 21 for St. Cloud and Mel Klein with 22 for Northern.

Cotton 11s Close At QB Spot

Dallas (AP) — Notice the resemblance of the quarterback one-to-one punch for the Cotton Bowl football game between Arkansas and Duke.

These schools might claim the best two combinations for one game.

No. 1 quarterback for Arkansas is George McKinney, a junior. The No. 2 man is Billy Moore, a sophomore.

No. 1 quarterback for Duke is Don Altman, a junior. No. 2 quarterback is Walt Rappold, a sophomore.

Sounds like a broken record doesn't it?

The resemblance by classes isn't the whole story, either. The combination of McKinney and Moore got 933 yards passing and 408 yards rushing.

The Duke duo of Altman and Rappold gained 914 in the air and 299 on the ground.

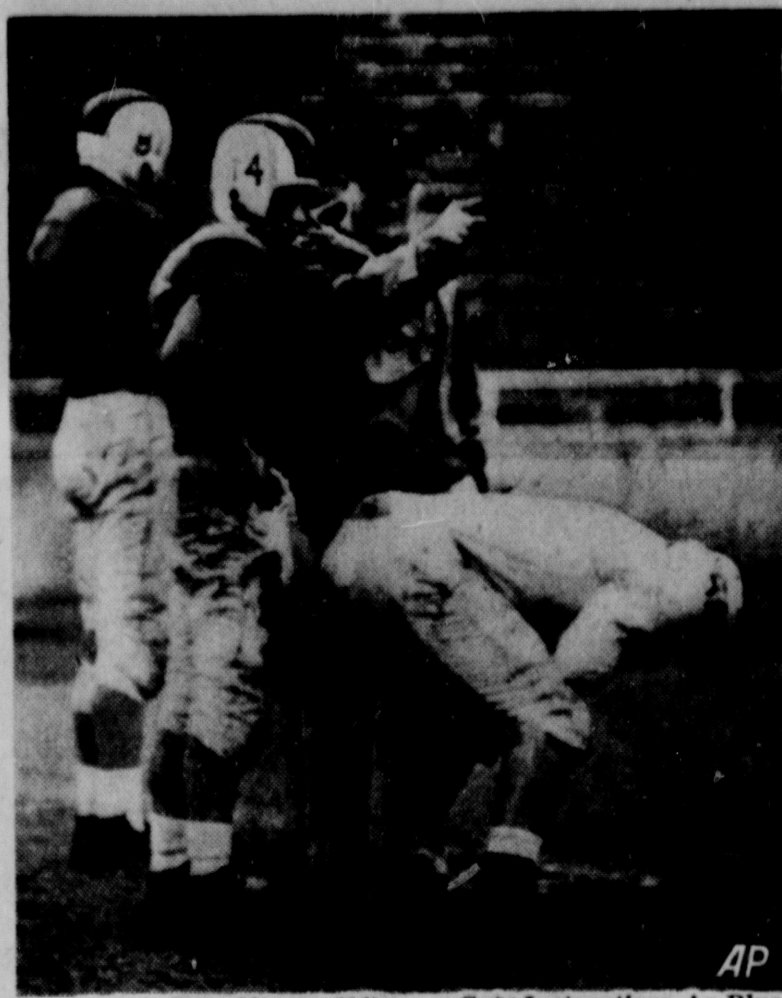

From the standpoint of passing accuracy Altman is tops in the nation. He completed 68 of 104 passes for 552 yards and two touchdowns. His average was 65.4 but he goes mostly for the short passes, the hooks.

McKinney connected on 39 of 90 for an average of 43.3 but he got 738 yards and 9 touchdowns. McKinney tries for the home run almost every time.

Rappold completed 36 of 66 passes for 362 yards — an average of 54.5, while Moore connected on 12 of 30 for 205 yards — an average of 40.0.

While Altman has more yards running than McKinney, 243 to 193, Moore tops Rappold on the ground 214 yards to 56.

Shrine Gate Men Watch For Scouts

... ESPECIALLY LAMAR HUNT

San Francisco (AP) — Texas multi-millionaire Lamar Hunt became the No. 1 target of the gate keepers at the West football camp Thursday after nearly getting the bum's rush Wednesday.

They probably won't see him, since the president of the new American Football League checked out of his Palo Alto motel early Thursday morning.

He created quite a furor Wednesday afternoon by attending the practice session, since pro scouts and representatives are barred from the drills of both the East and West squads that meet here Saturday.

Hunt wants to sign center E. J. Holub of Texas Tech and Bob Lilly of TCU, a couple of 250-pound West line-men drafted both by his Dallas Texans of the American Football League and the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Although the scouts are barred from the so-called secret practices, Hunt was standing with a group of citizens outside the Stanford field when the gates were suddenly opened and the group went in to sit in the stands.

"I just figured the stay out edict was more or less waived," he said. "Several other pro football people were in there."

But several more were outside and objected to Hunt's admittance.

Willard Clasen, the West's attache for the sponsoring Shrine Islam Temple, said he was no policeman and wouldn't ask Hunt to leave. He explained the situation to

McKinley Suspended

New York (AP) — Charles McKinley, 19-year old member of the United States Davis Cup team, Thursday was suspended by the United States Lawn Tennis Association because he "acted in a way detrimental to the welfare of the game" while in Australia.

President George E. Barnes of the USLTA, in making the announcement, said McKinley has been declared ineligible to compete in tournaments and matches played under the auspices of the association.

The statement issued by Barnes did not specify the charges against McKinley, who with Earl Buchholz of St. Louis holds the No. 1 rank in the men's doubles in this country. In the singles McKinley is ranked 4th.

The U.S. Davis Cup team, which lost to Italy in the Interzone finals, frequently was criticized by the Australian press for action on and off the courts.

Tangerine Clubs End Workouts

Orlando, Fla. (AP) — The Citadel and Tennessee Tech wound up practice Thursday for their Tangerine Bowl contest with each coach voicing respect for the other's team.

The kickoff is at 7 p.m. tonight. Both football teams will take the field with well balanced offenses.

"Citadel is impressive as a team," said Tech coach Wilbur Tucker. "They have good passing, good receivers and a strong running game. We particularly expect trouble from their quarterback, Jerry Nettles, and their left half, Earley Eastburn."

Citadel coach Eddie Teague called Tech a "good, solid football team. Gordon Mason, their quarterback, is obviously their number one threat but they are well-balanced ball club, too much so to concentrate on one man."

Citadel was second in the Southern Conference with a 7-2-1 record. Tennessee Tech, with an 8-2 record, won the Ohio Valley Conference championship.

Comeback Sends Sid To Playoff

Houston, Tex. (AP) — Sid Gillman ends an impressive comeback as a coach Sunday when he sends his Los Angeles Chargers against the Houston Oilers in the American Football League first championship game.

Facing Gillman from the Oiler bench will be Lou Rymkus, a former assistant who is ending his first year as a head coach.

Just a year ago Gillman and Rymkus left the Los Angeles Rams of The National League after a 2-10 record had given Gillman his worst season in 27 years of coaching.

Injuries bothered both coaches in the first year of operations of the new league but they send their division champions against each other Sunday with identical 10-4 records.

Gillman's Chargers won 8 of their last 9 games to take the Western Division title. Rymkus and his Oilers took command of the Eastern Division by jumping to a 5-1 early season lead.

Both coaches built their division championships with a mixture of pro veterans and rookies.

Gillman's attack is sparked by Jack Kemp, the league's No. 1 passer, and Paul Lowe, the No. 2 rusher. Kemp is in his 4th year as a pro, Lowe his first.

The Houston offense centers around George Blanda, a pro of 11 years, and two rookies, Billy Cannon and Dave Smith, who ranked 3rd and 4th among American League ground gainers.

Kemp had a 518 average while completing 211 of 407 passes for 3,018 yards and 20 touchdowns. Four of his touchdowns came on September 18 when the Oilers defeated the Chargers, 38-28, in Houston. The Chargers got even in November, however, with a 24-21 victory in Los Angeles.

—LAOS—
Allies Fail To Agree
... On Joint Action

Washington (AP) — The State Department disclosed Thursday that the United States, Britain and France have failed so far to agree on joint action for ending the civil war in Laos and preserving that country's independence.

Acknowledging a split among the Western allies over methods for dealing with the Laos crisis, a State Department spokesman said the differences are not serious.

He said the real difficulty is "ever-recurring communist interference and threat in Laos." He accused communist North Viet Nam and the pro-communist Pathet Lao movement of double-dealing in Laos for the past 6 years.

Press officer Lincoln White told a news conference the Western allies are agreed "on the basic and fundamental objective of helping to preserve the integrity, independence and sovereignty of Laos." The disagreement, he said, is over how to do this.

White would not go into details regarding differing proposals for action. One concern of all the Western powers, however, is known to be the chance that Laos might become another Korea — that is, a country in which Western and Asian communist forces could become involved in conflict on a large scale.

There have been persistent reports during the past two weeks that communist forces from neighboring Viet Nam had moved into Laos to join with the pro-communist Pathet Lao against the pro-American government of Premier Prince Boun Oum.

Russ Plane Blamed
Vientiane, Laos (UPI) — A ranking American official here said Thursday that the crew of the U.S. Embassy aircraft which was fired on was certain the bullets came from a Russian Ilyushin plane.

The official, who asked not to be named, said that while there was no definite proof of the shots were fired from the Soviet twin-engine plane, "I don't think there is much doubt in the minds of the crew."

Collision Brings
Suit For $15,000

Lewis Schleiger of Lincoln has filed a $15,000 personal injury suit on behalf of his son, Willard, 17, in Lancaster District Court against Marvin Mills and Roger D. Nelson, both of the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The suit states Willard was injured when a car driven by Mills and owned by Nelson collided with the Schleiger car which allegedly was stopped for a traffic signal at 13th and P.

Mrs. Mollie Schleiger, Willard's mother, also seeks $26,446.85 in damages for injuries in the Dec. 3 accident. She was a passenger in the car driven by her son and owned by Mr. Schleiger.

Steels, Unis Pace Stocks

New York (AP) — Steels and utilities were pacemakers in another turbulent stock market session Thursday. The list scored an irregular rise.

In next-to-last-day-of-year trading, steels launched a surprising rally which brokers said was based mainly on the depressed prices and hope for better things in 1961.

American Telephone once more decried its huge family of stockholders by pointing to a new historic high. Gains and losses of fractions to a cent swayed the list of 30 stocks as year-end transactions, aimed at tax advantages, muddled the trend.

Turnover was heavy, rising to 4.24 million shares from Wednesday's 3.62 million. The Dow Jones industrial average edged above 40 to 416.13.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 to 220.00 with the industrials unchanged, rails up 20 and utilities up .50 to another new high for the year.

A broad market of 1,271 issues traded, 379 advanced and 42 declined. Highs for the year totaled 42 and new lows 11.

Eleven of the most active stocks advanced, two declined and two were unchanged. American Stock Exchange prices were

Sen. Simmons Answers Elliott

Fremont — State Sen. Ray Simmons, replying to a statement made by J. G. Elliott, president of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, regarding the teaching load at the University's law college, said "the taxpayers' hopes now lie in the governor and the legislature."

Simmons said the Elliott statement was "obviously prepared largely by the University administration." Elliott had said the college's program "is a good one" and called attention to a 1959 review by the Board of Regents which showed the work load for law professors was adequate.

Elliott added that the board "reviewed the matter in considerable detail."

Simmons stated "Nebraska taxpayers may be puzzled to know what kind of a 'review' was made by the Board of Regents for it to conclude that having law college faculty members teach only 6 hours per week and have 2 full-time research assistants as well is a proper teaching load."

Continuing, the Simmons statement said:

"If this load appears absurdly low to non-lawyers it seems doubly so to anyone who has attended a law college."

"If Nebraska taxpayers have any doubts on this subject, they should visit with their lawyer friends across the state. After hearing from many lawyers I know what the lawyers' answer will be. To lawyers, such a situation is unbelievable."

"Did it ever occur to the Board of Regents that it could perform a service not only to Nebraska but to the nation as well if it used its power to at least try to bring some sanity to the professor associations which determine these low work loads?"

"The question is not whether professors at the University would like to teach only one or two hours per day. The question is whether Nebraska taxpayers could afford this."

"If the Board of Regents is not shocked by the low work load at the law college it apparently also will not be concerned by the low work loads elsewhere at the university."

"Nebraska taxpayers may wonder increasingly who it is that actually makes these strange decisions which come from the Board of Regents. In any event, it appears Nebraska taxpayers will get no help from either the university administration or the Board of Regents in clearing up the situation. The taxpayers' only hope now lies in the governor and the legislature."
